UPDATE TO FUM RELEASE TIMING

GQG Partners Inc. (GQG or the Company) (ASX:GQG) is modifying the time it will release its monthly information concerning funds under management (FUM) and net flows to be one to three days later each month than when it has historically released this information. This change in timing will enable the Company to better reflect information from certain external data sources that are increasingly important to compile for FUM and net flows and which are not available within the time frame previously followed. The change will begin with the release of January 2025 FUM disclosure.
