3.2 Rights and liabilities attaching to Shares

The following is a summary of the more significant rights and liabilities attaching to Shares. This summary is not exhaustive and does not constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of Shareholders. To obtain such a statement, persons should seek independent legal advice.

Full details of the rights and liabilities attaching to Shares are set out in the Constitution, a copy of which is available for inspection at the Company's registered office.

(a) General meeting and notices

Shareholders are entitled to be present in person, or by proxy, attorney or representative to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company.

Shareholders may requisition meetings in accordance with section 249D of the Corporations Act and the Constitution of the Company.

(b) Ranking of shares

At the date of this Prospectus, all Shares are of the same class and rank equally in all respects. Specifically, the Shares issued pursuant to this Prospectus will rank equally with existing Shares.

(c) Voting rights

Subject to any rights or restrictions, at general meetings of Shareholders or classes of shareholders:

- (i) every Shareholder present and entitled to vote may vote in person or by attorney, proxy or representative;
- (ii) on a show of hands, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder has one vote; and
- (iii) on a poll, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder, has one vote for every fully paid Share held and a fraction of one vote for each partly paid up Share held, equal to the proportion which the amount paid up on that Share (excluding amounts credited) is to the total amounts paid up and payable (excluding amounts credited) on that Share.

(d) Dividend rights

Directors may determine or declare a dividend to be paid to the Shareholders entitled to the dividend which shall be payable on all Shares according to the proportion that the amount is paid is of the total amounts paid and payable in respect of such Shares.

No dividend carries interest against the Company and the declaration of Directors as to the amount to be distributed is conclusive.

The Company must not pay a dividend unless the Company's assets exceed its liabilities immediately before the dividend is declared and the excess is sufficient for the payment of the dividend. The Directors may capitalise any profits of the Company and distribute that capital to the Shareholders, in the same proportions as the Shareholders are entitled to a distribution by dividend.

(e) Variation of rights

If at any time the share capital is divided into different classes of shares, the rights attaching to the Shares may only be varied by the consent in writing of the holders of three-quarters of the issued shares of that class, or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares in that class.

(f) Transfer of shares

Shares can be transferred upon delivery of a proper instrument of transfer to the Company or by a transfer in accordance with the ASX Settlement Operating Rules. The instrument of transfer must be in writing, in the approved form, and signed by the transferor and the transferee. Until the transferee has been registered, the transferor is deemed to remain the holder, even after signing the instrument of transfer.

In some circumstances, the Directors may refuse to register a transfer if upon registration the transferee will hold less than a marketable parcel. The Board may refuse to register a transfer of Shares upon which the Company has a lien. The Company must refuse to register a transfer of Shares where the Corporations Act, ASX Listing Rules or ASX Settlement Operating Rules or a law about stamp duty requires the Company to do so.

(g) Future increase in capital

The issue of any Shares is under the control of the Board of the Company as appointed from time to time. Subject to restrictions on the issue or grant of equity securities contained in the ASX Listing Rules, the Constitution and the Corporations Act (and without affecting any special rights previously conferred on the holder of an existing Share or class of shares), the Directors may issue Shares and other equity securities as they shall, in their absolute discretion, determine.

(h) Rights on winding up

If the Company is wound up, the liquidator may with the sanction of special resolution, divide among the Shareholders in kind the whole or any part of the property of the Company and may for that purpose set such value as the liquidator considers fair on any property to be divided and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholders.

(i) Alteration of constitution

In accordance with the Corporations Act, the Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution passed by at least three quarters of Shareholders present and voting at the general meeting. In addition, at least 28 days written notice specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution must be given.

4 RISK FACTORS

4.1 Introduction

The Shares offered under this Prospectus should be considered as highly speculative and an investment in the Company is not risk free.

The Directors strongly recommend that prospective investors to consider the risk factors set out in this Section 4, together with information contained in this Prospectus.

The future performance of the Company and the value of the Shares may be influenced by a range of factors, many of which are largely beyond the control of the Company and the Directors. The key risks associated with the Company's business, the industry in which it operates and general risks applicable to all investments in listed securities and financial markets generally are described below.

The risks factors set out in this Section 4, or other risk factors not specifically referred to, may have a materially adverse impact on the performance of the Company and the value of the Shares. This Section 4 is not intended to provide an exhaustive list of the risk factors to which the Company is exposed.

If you do not understand any matters contained in this Prospectus or have any queries about whether to invest in the Company, you should consult your accountant, financial adviser, stockbroker, lawyer or other professional adviser.

4.2 Company specific

RISK CATEGORY	RISK
Additional requirements for capital	The Company's capital requirements depend on numerous factors. Depending on the Company's ability to generate income from its operations, the Company may require further financing to develop its business. Any additional equity financing will dilute shareholdings, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce the scope of its operations and scale back its research, development and commercialisation of its technology / products and its other longer-term objectives as the case may be. There is however no guarantee that the Company will be able to secure any additional funding or be able to secure funding on terms favourable to the Company.
Loss making operation, future capital needs and additional funding	The Company is currently loss making (having incurred net losses in each year since inception) and will require further financing in the future, in addition to amounts raised pursuant to the Offers. Any additional equity financing may be dilutive to Shareholders, may be undertaken at a lower price than the current market price (or Conversion Price) or may involve restrictive covenants which limit the Company's operations and business strategy. Debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. The future capital requirements of the Company will depend on many factors, including the pace and

	magnitude of the development of its business and sales, increasing operating costs and inflation risks which may adversely affect the Company's performance. As such, the Company may need to raise additional funds from time to time to finance the ongoing development and commercialization of its technology and to meet its other longer-term objectives. Although the Directors believe the additional capital can be obtained, no assurances can be made that appropriate capital or funding, if and when needed, will be available on terms favorable to the Company or at all. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to deduce the scope of its operations, and this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's activities and could affect the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The Company may undertake additional offerings of Shares and of securities convertible into Shares in the future. The increase in the number of Shares issued and outstanding and the possibility of sales of such shares may have a depressive effect on the price of Shares. In addition, as a result of such additional Shares, the voting power of the Company's existing Shareholders will be diluted.
Competition, marketing and new technologies	The industry in which the Company is involved is subject to increasing global competition which is fast-paced and fast-changing. While the Company will undertake all reasonable due diligence in its business decisions and operations, the Company will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, whose activities or actions may positively or negatively affect the operating and financial performance of the Company's projects and business. For instance, new technologies could result in the Company not being differentiated to other similar offerings The Company's success depends on, in large part, on effectively marketing its products to surgeons. In order for the Company's products to gain widespread adoption, the Company must successfully demonstrate to surgeons the medical and economic benefits of its products compared to competitors' products. The Company also may face challenges because in situ tissue engineering is relatively new as compared to the current standard of care for bone regeneration. Standard care for the previous several decades has involved permanent implants and bone grafts whereas the Company's products have only been commercially available since approximately 2006 (such that the Company has a limited track record compared with its competitors). Acceptance of the Company's products depends on

	educating surgeons as to the distinctive characteristics, perceived benefits, safety, ease of use and cost effectiveness of its products as compared to its competitors' products and communicating to surgeons the proper use of its products. If the Company is not successful in convincing surgeons of the merits of its products or educating them on the benefits of its products, they may not use its products and the Company may be unable to increase its sales, sustain its growth or achieve profitability. In addition, the Company believes support of its products by surgeons is essential for market acceptance and adoption. If the Company does not receive support from surgeons or long-term data does not show the benefits of using its products, surgeons may not use it. In such circumstances, the Company's results of operations would be materially adversely affected. A number of third-party competitors are currently offering products and services similar to the Company's products. Furthermore, the competitive landscape for bone regeneration is crowded and continues to evolve at a rapid pace. Various other companies, many with greater resources, are developing or commercialising products that potentially compete with the Company's products. This competition could have a material adverse effect on potential acceptance, use, pricing and sales of the Company's products.
Intellectual property risk	Osteopore International has a patent portfolio of 25 patents, trade secrets and registered trademarks. The Company relies on laws relating to patents, trade secrets, copyright and trademarks to assist to protect its proprietary rights. However, there is a risk that unauthorised use or copying of the Company's software, data, specialised technology, manufacturing processes or platforms will occur (including as a result of cyber-attacks and network security breaches). The process of obtaining patent protection is expensive and time-consuming, and the Company may not be able to prosecute all necessary or desirable patent applications at a reasonable cost or in a timely manner. If the Company fails to protect its intellectual property secrets, competitors may gain access to its proprietary information which could harm the Company's business. There is a risk that the Company will be unable to register or otherwise protect new intellectual property it develops in the future. Competitors may be able to work around any of the applications or other intellectual property rights used by the Company, or independently develop technologies or competing products that are not covered by the Company's intellectual property rights. This may materially adversely impact the Company's revenue, legal expenses and profitability.

	The patent positions of pharmaceutical and medical device companies can be highly uncertain and involve complex legal, scientific and factual questions for which important legal principles remain unresolved. The Company seeks to protect its trade secrets, in part, by entering into non-disclosure and confidentiality agreements with parties who have access to them, such as its consultants and vendors, or its former or current employees. The Company also enters into confidentiality and invention and patent assignment agreements with its employees and consultants. Despite these efforts, however, any of these parties may breach the agreements and disclose the Company's trade secrets and other unpatented or unregistered proprietary information, and once disclosed, the Company is likely to lose trade secret protection. If the Company believes its intellectual property rights have been infringed, it may initiate or otherwise be involved in litigation against third parties for infringement, or to establish the validity, of the Company's rights. Any litigation, whether or not it is successful, could result in significant expense to the Company and divert the efforts of its personnel. In addition, unauthorised use of the various brands of the Company in counterfeit products or services could not only result in potential revenue loss, but also have an adverse impact on its brand value and perception of product quality.
Medical or product liability claims	Generally, medical technology companies may be subject to claims alleging negligence, product liability or breach of warranty that may involve large claims and significant defence costs whether or not such liability is imposed. These claims may be brought by individuals seeking relief for themselves, or increasingly, by groups seeking to represent a class. Claims could be made against the Company for liabilities resulting from adverse medical consequences to patients.
Contractual risk	There are a number of risks associated with contracts entered into by the Company, including the risk that those contracts may contain unfavourable provisions, or be terminated, lost or impaired, or renewed on less favourable terms. As with any contract, there is a risk that the business could be disrupted in situations where there is a disagreement or dispute in relation to a term of the contract. Should such a disagreement or dispute occur, this may have an adverse impact on the Company's operations and performance generally. It is not possible for the Company to predict or protect itself against all such risks. In accordance with the Company's strategic investment into the Regen SPV, the Company entered into an

	investment agreement with Dr Xianmin Zeng and Dr Brian Kennedy on 4 November 2024 (Investment Agreement). In accordance with the terms of the Investment Agreement, the Company has agreed to invest cash or in kind between USD 5 to 7 million (further details in respect of which are set out in the Company's announcement dated 4 November 2024) subject to the Company being satisfied with its due diligence process, funding and obtaining necessary regulatory and shareholder approvals (Investment Amount). There can be no certainty that the Company will have sufficient funds to satisfy the Investment Amount if and when it becomes payable. In the event that the Company does not have the available cash to meet the Investment Amount and isn't able to raise sufficient funds, it may default on its payment obligations, which may give rise to a potential claim against the Company. There is no guarantee that further capital will be available on terms satisfactory to the Company, or at all, and further equity raisings will dilute the interests of existing Shareholders.
Regulatory Risk	The Company is subject to continuing regulation, including quality regulations applicable to the manufacture of its devices and various reporting, certification renewal and audit requirements and regulations. The Company has policies and procedures in place which are designed to ensure continuing compliance with applicable regulations for its existing products in the jurisdiction in which it operates. There can be no guarantee that the regulatory environment in which the Company operates may not change in the future which may impact the Company's existing approvals and products. The Company intends to expand the application of its products in target jurisdictions (including Australia, USA, Europe and China). Further regulatory approvals may be required to expand into these jurisdictions including but not limited to Australian TGA approval, China FDA registration, registration of new materials with the US FDA and further CE Mark conformity. The Company may not be able to obtain the necessary approvals and clearances in a timely fashion or may not be able to obtain the necessary approvals or clearances at all.
Supplier and manufacturer risk	The Company may be unable to successfully sustain and to further scale-up manufacturing of its products in sufficient quality and quantity, which would delay or prevent it from developing and commercialising any approved products. Osteopore sources certain key components for its devices from third party suppliers. The Company relies in particular on a primary third-party supplier located in the Netherlands for materials used in its products, thereby making the Company vulnerable to supply shortages and

	price fluctuations, which could harm its business, operations, financial condition and cash flows (particularly if the Company is unable to reduce its expenses including on a per unit costs basis). The delivery of such components may be delayed, or a specific supplier may not be able to deliver at all, which may lead to a longer sales cycle or may force the Company to shift to another supplier. There is a risk that the Company could be disrupted if no alternative suppliers were able to be sought which may (among other things) cause significant delays in the shipment of the Company's products which may in turn cause the Company to breach its obligations to customers. Even if operations are not disrupted, potential price fluctuations for the Company's products may have a material effect on the Company's operations, financial performance and cash flow. Additionally, there is a risk that key components provided by third party suppliers may be defective.
Equipment risk	Osteopore uses 3D printing technology to develop biometric microarchitectures that facilitate natural tissue regeneration. The core micro-extruder technology is integrated with a 3D printer. Whilst there are other providers of equipment (including 3D printers), inability to access the appropriate equipment in a timely fashion and on commercial terms may have an adverse effect on Osteopore's business and financial position.
Licence risk	Osteopore licences software from a third-party provider for use in development of fused deposition modelling 3D printing instruction software. Whilst there are other alternative software providers, there is a risk that the business could be disrupted if there is a disagreement, dispute or the third-party provider is no longer able to provide its service to the Company. The Company is also party to licence agreements that give it various commercialisation rights, the loss of which (whether due to the Company's actions or inactions or those of the respective counterparties) may adversely affect its business. The loss of (i) the licenses granted under such agreements, or (ii) the rights provided under such agreements, would prevent the Company from developing, manufacturing or marketing products covered by the license, and could materially harm its business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
New applications/ products and clinical testing	The Company has identified a number of new applications that are complementary to its existing products, including dental, spinal/ orthopaedic and long bone market segments. These new products must still

	undergo further clinical studies (and the Company may in the future identify future products which may similarly require clinical studies) and those tests and trials may show that its new products do not work in a safe and effective manner. The Company intends to conduct clinical studies of the licensed intellectual property in the future, but there can be no guarantee that relevant regulatory agencies will allow the Company to undertake such trials and/or the development and approval process for any new products or applications of existing products may take longer, cost more than expected and may result in the licensed intellectual property not producing a viable device. If serious adverse events or other undesirable side effects are identified during the use of the Company's products in clinical trials or investigator-sponsored trials, it may adversely affect the Company's development of such product candidates. Clinical trials by their nature are very expensive, take a long time to complete, and are difficult to design and implement and involve uncertain outcomes. Furthermore, results of earlier preclinical studies and clinical trials may not be predictive of results of future preclinical studies, clinical trials or commercial success. Clinical trials may be delayed, suspended or terminated for many reasons, which will increase the Company's expenses and delay the time it takes to develop and expand our products in additional applications.
New markets	The Company will look to expand its product offerings into new markets. Any efforts to enter a new market space holds the risk that the product offering does not meet the needs of the market at an acceptable price point, the product does not meet the relevant regulatory standards and/or the underlying intellectual property is not registrable in the market. New markets usually cost substantially more to penetrate than a known market.
Distribution risk	The Company has a number of distribution agreements in place with third party distributors and currently depends on third-party distributors for the majority of its product sales. The Company intends to focus on developing and marketing the Company's products through the use of distributors in key target markets. Each distributor is required to maintain all regulatory approvals with respect to each of the Company's products and is required to keep the Company generally informed of the regulatory requirements in the relevant territory. Under each distribution agreement, there is a risk of: (i) failure by the distributor to pay any amount owing to the Company under the distribution

	agreement; (ii) failure by the distributor to comply with post market requirements pertaining to tracking, vigilance and reporting procedures per ISO 13485 and any national or state requirements; or (iii) failure by the distributor to obtain all regulatory approvals required to sell and distribute the Company's products in the territory. The Company may be required to terminate the relevant agreement upon any of the above occurring and the Company may be unable to replace that distributor without disruption to its business. Further, there is a risk that the Company enters into distribution agreements on terms that may not be commercially acceptable or may have a negative impact on the Company's growth and profitability
Reliance on key customers	The Company's largest markets by revenue are currently South Korea, Vietnam and Philippines. This geographic concentration makes the Company particularly sensitive to regulatory, economic, and competitive conditions in those countries, and any material change in such conditions in these countries could have a disproportionate effect on its business, results of operations and financial condition. Furthermore, the Company's operating results may vary significantly from quarter to quarter because of seasonality, bulk orders, shipments to distributors or otherwise. If the Company were to lose one or more of its significant customers, its revenue may significantly decline. The loss of one or more of the Company's significant customers could adversely affect its business, results of operations, and financial condition. Because of these and other factors, it is possible that in some future period the Company's operating results may not meet investor expectations or those of public market analysts.
Dilution risk	Any additional equity financing may be dilutive to Shareholders, may be undertaken at lower prices than the Offer and may involve restrictive covenants which limit the Company's operations and business strategy. Debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. The Company may undertake offerings of securities convertible into Shares in the future. The increase in the number of Shares issued and outstanding and the possibility of sales of such Shares may have a depressive effect on the price of Shares. In addition, as a result of such additional Shares, voting power of the Company's existing Shareholders may be diluted.

Unforeseen expenditure risk	Expenditure may need to be incurred that has not been taken into account in the preparation of this Prospectus. Although the Company is not aware of any such additional expenditure requirements, if such expenditure is subsequently incurred, this may adversely affect the expenditure proposals of the Company.
Future acquisitions and strategic investments risk	The Company may in the future explore potential acquisitions of companies or technologies, strategic investments, or alliances to strengthen its business. Acquisitions involve numerous risks, any of which could harm the Company's business and operating results and there is no guarantee acquisition opportunities will be identified or that they will successfully complete or improve the Company's operations or financial performance.
Personal information collation risk	The Company collects, stores and processes highly sensitive, highly regulated and confidential information. The provision of secure and reliable information storage and processing services is integral to the businesses and operations of the Company in the corporate wellness industry. While the Company has in place strict policies and procedures when collecting data, if the Company's systems or data is compromised for any reason there is a risk that the Company may become involved in legal action due to breaching data confidentiality agreements.

4.3 Securities Investment and Market Risks

RISK CATEGORY	RISK
General economic climate	Factors such as inflation, currency fluctuations, interest rates, legislative changes, political decisions and industrial disruption have an impact on operating costs. The Company's future income, asset values and share price can be affected by these factors and, in particular, by exchange rate movements.

Should a contractual dispute result in court action or should the Company be required to enforce its rights,

Negative publicity may adversely affect the Share price	Any negative publicity or announcement relating to any of the Company's substantial Shareholders, key personnel or activities may adversely affect the stock performance of the Company, whether or not this is justifiable. Examples of such negative publicity or announcements may include involvement in legal or insolvency proceedings, failed attempts in takeovers, joint ventures or other business transactions.
Securities Investments	Investors should be aware that there are risks associated with any securities investment. The prices at which the Company's Shares trade may be above or below the Offer price, and may fluctuate in response to a number of factors including the risk factors identified in this section as well as securities market factors such as limited liquidity of the Shares and large share price movements due to trading by major Shareholders.
Issue of Additional Securities	In certain circumstances, the Directors may issue equity securities without any vote or action by Shareholders. If the Company were to issue any equity securities the percentage ownership of existing Shareholders may be reduced and diluted.
Share Market Fluctuations and Economic Conditions	The Company's financial performance and ability to execute its business strategy will be impacted by a variety of general market, political, social, stock market and business conditions beyond the Company's control. (i) Share market conditions may affect the value of the Company's quoted securities regardless of the Company's operating performance. Share market conditions are affected by many factors including but not limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (A) general economic outlook; (B) interest rates and inflation rates; (C) currency fluctuations; (D) changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors; (E) the demand for, and supply of, capital; (F) political and environmental events; and (G) wars, terrorism or other hostilities. (ii) The market price of securities can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for
