

ASX RELEASE

23 April 2025

Q3 FY25 Quarterly Activities Report

Tinybeans Group Limited (ASX: TNY) (OTCQB: TNYF) (“Tinybeans” or “the Company”), provides this update on its business activities alongside the Company’s Appendix 4C cash flow report for the quarter ended 31 March 2025 (Q3 FY25). All references are in $USD.

Q3 FY25 Key Callouts:

- Significantly reduced net cash burn of US$63K for Q3 FY25 (Q3 FY24: US$732K; +91% prior comparative period (pcp)), due to clear strategic focus, major restructure and high subscription cash payments.
- Net cash from operations of US$76K for Q3 FY25 (Q3 FY24: used $763K).
- Material improvements in EBITDA of -US$328K for Q3 FY25 (Q3 FY24: -US$1.08M, +69% pcp) and 45% reduction in OPEX pcp representing cost base reset and streamlined operations.
- Net Paid Subscriber growth, with Paid Subscribers up slightly from 50.1k in Q2 to 50.2k in Q3, resulting in US$0.75M paid subscription revenue. Contributing factors include strong blended retention of 95% and early promise in growth strategies.
- CFO appointment of Rebecca White, and transition of finance operations to outsourced model in Australia, resulting in further cost reductions, plus insights and efficiency gains from having a locally based, highly experienced executive team.
- Key marketing and distribution partnerships (Bounty Bags in Australia, Babylist in the US) commenced, with promising redemptions particularly in Australia which bundles a Tinybeans+ subscription with a premium Tinybeans photobook.
- Strong product delivery quarter, resolving long-standing experience issues with the Tinybeans app, while positioning the app for new product tiers and improved monetisation to be rolled out over 2025 inline with an evolved strategy and product roadmap.
- Launched ‘Tinybeans for Business’, and secured distribution on leading global HR platforms late in Q3, which provides promotional avenues to 5 million employees across America’s largest employers.
- Globally dispersed, streamlined Tinybeans team highly engaged and laser focused on opportunity ahead

Zsofi Paterson, Managing Director and CEO of Tinybeans, said:

“In Q3, we focused on reducing our cash burn while laying the foundations for scalable, high-quality subscriber and revenue growth. We saw continued strength in our core subscription metrics, with blended retention reaching an all-time high of 95%.

“We also progressed a compelling product roadmap designed to enhance both acquisition and monetisation, and launched several key marketing and distribution initiatives to grow our reach and brand awareness.

“Operationally, we continued to streamline and strengthen the business, with key local hires in finance and HR to support our next phase of growth.

“The team and I remain energised and confident in the opportunity ahead — building a category-defining platform for modern families.”

Cash burn reduced substantially inline with go-forward plan

- Operating cash inflows of US$76K for Q3 FY25 (Q3 FY24: outflows of US$763K), due to cost-base reset and strong Paid Subscription retention.
- Investing cash outflows of US$115K for Q3 FY25 (Q3 FY24: nil), which consisted of payments for capitalised development costs, reflecting renewed investment in the product in line with the overall strategy.
- Operating expenses of US$1.14M for Q3 FY25, down by 45% compared to Q3 FY24.
- Improved EBITDA loss for Q3 FY25 of US$328K (Q3 FY24: US$1.08M, +69% pcp).
- Total Revenue for Q3 FY25 was down by 16% pcp due to strategic shift away from publisher-led advertising model, compounded by advertising market weakness and general volatility in the US.
- Monthly Recurring Revenue of US$0.76M flat pcp.
- Total cash outflows for Q3 FY25 of only US$60K, resulting in a closing cash balance for Q3 FY25 of US$1.81M, down only marginally from Q2 FY25 US$1.87M.

Marketing efforts positioning for net Paid Subscriber growth

- During Q3, the Company focused on establishing the foundations for scalable Paid Subscriber growth through strategic marketing and brand-building initiatives. The Company continued its transition toward a subscription-first model, with efforts concentrated on refining brand positioning, strengthening digital performance, and developing acquisition partnerships that target high-intent parent audiences.
- Made material progress implementing a new CRM platform, which will enhance the ability to increase personalisation and optimise key onboarding, activation and upgrade flows in the apps. Full implementation remains on track for Q4.
- Key marketing and growth initiatives delivered in Q3 included:
 - Strategic distribution partnerships, with Tinybeans+ offers placed in Babylist ‘Hello Baby’ boxes (US) and Bounty Bags (AU) – targeting hundreds of thousands of parents at a critical early-life stage.
 - The launch of ‘Tinybeans+ for Business’, securing distribution across large employment platforms, such as BenefitHub, and expanding the brand’s reach to working parents.
 - Scaling of digital paid channels, with strong improvements in cost efficiency and funnel visibility through deeper integration with lifecycle journeys.
 - Initial investment in influencer and UGC partnerships, designed to expand brand awareness and reaching new audiences.
 - A feature in The Sydney Morning Herald, contributing to increased media visibility and trust amongst Australian audiences.
 - Lifecycle journey optimisation, including onboarding and reactivation flows which contributed to continued reduction of churn via high performing winback campaigns.
- Marketing spend was deployed in line with a ‘test and learn’ approach, ensuring disciplined investment while identifying channels and tactics that can scale in future quarters.

Product roadmap focussed on extending the life and monetisation of subscribers

- Delivered solid product execution in Q3, resolving critical iOS experience issues that strengthened core user experience and resulted in improved incremental App Store ratings.
- Refined the packaging and positioning of the free and paid Tinybeans subscription plans in Q3 to create clearer differentiation and encourage upgrades to Tinybeans+.
- Completed strategic development of the product roadmap focused on extending customer lifetime value (LTV) and increasing average revenue per user (ARPU). This will be executed over Q4 and H1 FY25 and is expected to enhance the scalability and improve monetization of existing and new Tinybeans subscribers. This will include:
 - Introducing a new 'storage' subscription tier specifically designed for long-term subscribers who are beyond the active sharing phase, addressing a critical retention opportunity,
 - Updating UI to surface new storage management system that encourages upgrade to Tinybeans+ paid tiers,
 - Delivering new physical photo product offerings to expand revenue per user.
- These activities initiate the strategic evolution of Tinybeans from a photo-sharing app to a comprehensive family memory platform that delivers and captures value across the complete family journey.

CFO Appointment and localised admin functions to streamline operations

- On 5 March 2025, Rebecca White was appointed as CFO. Ms White has had an extensive career across the UK, Australia and the US, in accounting and operational leadership roles.
- Over Q3, Ms White has overseen a successful transition of the finance function to Traverse Accountants. Previously, the finance function has been run out of the US by full-time employees, and this transition is expected to result in further cost savings, in addition to insights and efficiency gains from having a locally based, highly experienced and multi-disciplinary executive team.
- The HR support function was also transitioned from US FTE to experienced fractional support in AU, resulting in further efficiencies from Q4.
- Culture, engagement and momentum of the Tinybeans team is strong and well positioned for the next exciting chapter.

As detailed in item 6 of the Appendix 4C at Attachment 1 of this announcement, the Company made payments totalling US$88,000 to related parties during the quarter for Directors' remuneration including the Managing Directors' salary.

This ASX announcement has been approved for release by the TNY Board.
