Commentary:

Executive Chairman of Uscom, Professor Rob Phillips said “Q3 has been an extraordinary period with the US global trade war damaging markets and sales worldwide, and only SE Asia achieving sales targets. Despite these global challenges Uscom achieved a 14% increase in sales revenue over Q2. Operationally there has been a steady flow of milestones including clinical achievements in maternal care, preeclampsia and hypertension, further consolidation of our partnerships with Foxconn and SinoPharm and receipt of our Chinese NMPA regulatory approvals for BP+ and SpiroSonic. To support our expansion in China Beijing Uscom MedTech was founded as a wholly owned Uscom subsidiary creating an entirely new product development, manufacturing and distribution arm of the Company. Uscom is globally well poised for growth with new products, new partnerships and expansionary operational strategies in preparation for the stabilization of global geopolitics and the re-emergence of a rational commercial environment and the restoration of Uscom’s high trend growth trajectory.”

Uscom manufactures and markets the world leading USCOM 1A, the Uscom BP+, and the Uscom SpiroSonic digital multi-channel ultrasonic spirometry technologies into global markets addressing cardiovascular and pulmonary diseases.
