Update on Voluntary Suspension

NT Minerals Limited (ASX: NTM) ("NT Minerals", "NTM" or "the Company") refers to the voluntary suspension granted to the Company with effect from 24 April 2025.

The Company provides an update on the continued suspension of trading in its ordinary shares, noting that it is not in a position to make an announcement in relation to the potential disposal of to the Redbank Copper Project in the Northern Territory mentioned in its request within the timeframe contemplated in the request for voluntary suspension (that is, by open on trade on Friday 2 May 2025).

The Company is still in negotiations regarding the potential disposal of to the Redbank Copper Project and has not yet executed an agreement.

Until such time as the Company is able to release the announcement regarding the potential disposal of to the Redbank Copper Project, the Company is unable to provide any interim announcement or update about these matters without potentially creating a false or disorderly market in its securities. Any form of interim disclosure would be based on incomplete and uncertain information without reasonable grounds. Accordingly, any interim disclosure could result in trading in the Company's securities occurring while the market is not fully informed.

On that basis, the Company expects that its securities will remain suspended from quotation by ASX, who will impose a continued period of suspension of the Company's securities under ASX Listing Rule 17.3.

The Company will update the market about the potential transaction as soon as it is in a reasonable position to do so.
