

ASX Announcement

5 June 2025

Response to Media Speculation

In response to recent media speculation, Coronado Global Resources Inc. (ASX: CRN) (“Coronado” or “the Company”) advises that it is in confidential discussions with Stanwell Corporation Limited (“Stanwell”) regarding potential changes to its coal supply agreements with Stanwell to provide up to US$150 million in near-term liquidity to Coronado (not in the form of a loan) and Coronado to provide access to additional coal supply for Stanwell to support its power generation capacity.

Discussions between the parties are ongoing and incomplete. No final agreement has been reached on terms and there is no certainty that a transaction will result and, if a transaction does occur, when or on what terms such a transaction may occur.

Coronado will continue to update the market in accordance with its continuous disclosure obligations but otherwise does not intend to comment further on such matters.
