FY25 Trading Update

Reece Limited (“Reece Group”; ASX: REH) today announces a full year trading update.

As anticipated at the half year, the trading environment has remained challenging during the second half of FY25, driven by ongoing housing market softness across both regions. Underlying volumes continue to be subdued and EBIT margins remain under pressure as we navigate the cycle. As a result, Reece expects Group EBIT for FY25 to be within the range of A$548m – A$558m (unaudited).

Peter Wilson, Chairman & CEO of Reece Group, said: “Our expected FY25 results reflect the backdrop of continuing macro-economic headwinds. We have not seen a material improvement in trading conditions in the second half.

“In Australia and New Zealand, volume settings remain soft, and recent interest rate cuts have not yet translated to improved housing activity. This will take time to flow through.

“In the US, our high exposure to the residential new construction (RNC) sector continues to impact our performance. Housing units under construction remain down year on year, particularly in the sunbelt region where we operate. Mortgage rates remain high and housing affordability continues to weigh on the US residential market.

“We have seen increased competition across all segments of our US business from new market entrants and the slowdown in RNC, which has impacted profitability for the year.

“We have seen similar cycles before and remain confident in our long term approach.”
