

ZOONO GROUP LIMITED (ASX: ZNO)

ASX ANNOUNCEMENT - 29 July 2025
Quarterly Report and Company Update

Continuing strong interest generated in shelf-life extension technology

Zoono Group Limited (Company) (ASX: ZNO) today releases its Appendix 4C for the quarter ending 30 June 2025. In conjunction with that release, Zoono provides the following quarterly activities report to update shareholders and the market on developments during the quarter together with the Company's outlook.

Zoono continues to prioritise the development of commercial opportunities in its selected niche markets, the most important being the fresh food shelf-life extension sector. Good progress is being made on several major sales opportunities.

Shelf-life extension project - UK, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia

Within the shelf-life extension project, Zoono and OSY Group Ltd (OSY) are currently conducting 45 trials (up 11 from the prior quarter) across four continents and a diverse range of customers (primarily supermarket chains, food producers, packaging companies and exporters).

Where the earlier trials were focused predominantly on soft fruits, the focus has now broadened substantially to include other fruits and vegetables, meat, fish, poultry, bread, ready-meals and fresh flowers. All trials to date have been successful.

In addition to the above trials, there are many other companies engaged in discussions with either Zoono and/or OSY in relation to the products and technology. The number of trials and level of inquiry is very positive evidence of the potential future longer-term revenue streams available to the Company from this niche market.

The most advanced trials are in the UK where two large UK supermarket chains undertook 'in-store' trials in March 2025. The success of those trials led to the signing of the Sharpak agreement announced to the market on 20 May 2025 (Sharpak is a major supplier of food packaging to supermarket chains in the UK and France). As a result of this agreement, further trials are planned with another large UK supermarket chain.

Zoono expects this to form the basis of the next step towards full national roll-out to all stores by Q2 FY26, and it is envisaged ZNO will start earning revenue in that period.

Other initiatives

Zoono is also making progress in its target Asian markets of China, Korea, India and Japan. Orders were received in Q4 from a large Japanese pharmaceutical company for product which will ultimately be used in the textile industry. Repeat orders are also expected from Animal Health for supply into Australia in Q2 FY26.

Working capital

With:

- continuing lower operating overheads;
- improved sales revenues expected in H1 FY26 (over the corresponding period in FY25), which are expected to include sales of its shelf-life extension products; and
- the additional funding from the Company's recent non-renounceable rights issue (with all the directors taking up their full entitlements of A$527,271),

Zoono anticipates it will have sufficient funds to meet its objectives.

Summary of Q2 Expenditure

Related party payments of $117,000 shown on the following Appendix 4C were directors' fees (including amounts paid to the executive director) for services rendered.

Expenditure incurred during the quarter on business activities was primarily on staff costs (NZ$112K), product manufacturing (NZ$86K) and administration and corporate overheads (NZ$218K). Other material expenditure included advertising and marketing (NZ$59K) and interest and research and development (NZ$4K).

8.6.3 Does the entity expect to be able to continue its operations and to meet its business objectives and, if so, on what basis?

Answer:

Yes, with the Company's reduced overheads, committed funds in the non-renounceable rights issue and the expected receipts from customers over the next two quarters, the Company fully expects to be able to continue its operations and to meet its business objectives.

Note: where item 8.5 is less than 2 quarters, all of questions 8.6.1, 8.6.2 and 8.6.3 above must be answered.
