Having regard to the ASX questions in the letter dated 30 July, ODA responds as follows:

1. Does ODA consider the following information, or any part thereof, to be information that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of its securities?

1.1 The ACTA Trial Contracts

(Individually, No Collectively Yes) Together, these added up to $1.5 million, which was disclosed in our earlier clarification release (released on 21 July 2025).

1.2 The Relevant ACTA Trial Contracts

(Individually, No Collectively No) Two contracts, Whittlesea and Hinterland, were not included in the 3 April 2024 release. In our June 2024 Quarterly Update, we reported six new contracts in the ACTA trial, compared to the four announced in April.

The two additional contracts were small in scale and with a combined total value of approximately $19,000 over three years (a 5.8% increase on the total value of the 4 contracts announced), and were not material. Accordingly, they were not disclosed individually or collectively in earlier ASX announcements. The April announcement covered four contracts totalling $330,000 in value.

1.3 The New SaaS Contracts.

(Individually, No Collectively Yes) While the new SaaS contracts announced on 14 July 2025 were not material individually, we chose to disclose them to keep the market fully informed about developments in the ACTA trial. We had referenced the trial's progress in each of our 2024 quarterly and half-year reports to the ASX.

2. If the answer to any part of question 1 is “no” please advise the basis for that view.

See responses above in questions 1.1, 1.2, and 1.3.

3. When did ODA first become aware of the information referred to in question 1.1 above?

We did not consider the individual ACTA Trial Contracts to be material at the time each of them was signed. However, once all ACTA Trial Contracts had been executed (the last of which, being the contract executed with Hinterland Community Transport was executed on 26/4/2024 and the ACTA trial was completed on the 30 June 2025 and all information had been collected as to the success of the ACTA trial the Board assessed the aggregate value of the ACTA Trial Contracts as material on 10 July 2025 and acted accordingly, releasing the Announcement on 14 July 2025.

When did ODA first become aware of the information referred to in question 1.2 above?

Not relevant; see response to question 1.2 above.

When did ODA first become aware of the information referred to in question 1.3 above?

Not relevant; see response to question 1.3 above.

4. When did the negotiations on the following contracts complete and ODA commit itself to proceeding with it?

4.1 The Relevant Trial Contracts

ODA was already contractually committed to three of the ACTA Trial contracts; Transicare, Commlink and Burnie Brae prior to the commencement of the trial. These contracts had been previously announced and their inclusion in the ACTA trial did not alter their terms or value. The remaining contracts were committed to at the start of the ACTA trial, on 1 July 2024.

4.2 The New SaaS Contracts.

Negotiations on the new SaaS contracts were completed and ODA committed to proceeding with them on 1 July 2025.

5. If ODA first became aware of the information referred to in question 1 before the date of the Announcement, did ODA make any announcement prior to that date which disclosed the information? If not, please explain why the information was not released to the market at an earlier time, commenting specifically on when you believe ODA was obliged to release the information under Listing Rules 3.1 and 3.1A and what steps ODA took to ensure that the information was released promptly and without delay.

Please answer separately for each of the items in question 1 above and provide details of the prior announcement/s if applicable.

The matters referred to in Question 1 were addressed in our previous responses. For clarity, in respect of all the items in 1 above, we confirm that ODA did not consider the individual items comprising the ACTA Trial Contracts, the relevant ACTA Trial Contracts, and the New SaaS Contracts to be material at the time they were executed and therefore, no separate announcements were made prior to on 14 July 2025.

We assessed that once the ACTA Trial Contracts were signed and the ACTA trial completed the information was collectively material under Listing Rule 3.1. ODA released this information promptly in our 14 July 2025 announcement in accordance with our obligations under Listing Rules 3.1 and 3.1A.

There were no earlier announcements disclosing this specific information. ODA continually monitors material developments and acted promptly to disclose the information once materiality was assessed.

6. Please confirm that ODA is in compliance with the Listing Rules and, in particular, Listing Rule 3.1.

The Board has conducted appropriate reviews and confirms that ODA is in compliance with the Listing Rules, particularly Listing Rule 3.1. ODA maintains robust governance and disclosure policies to ensure ongoing compliance with its regulatory obligations.

7. Please confirm that ODA's responses to the questions above have been authorised and approved in accordance with its published continuous disclosure policy or otherwise by its board or an officer of ODA with delegated authority from the Board to respond to ASX on disclosure matters.

All responses provided above have been authorised and approved by the Board in accordance with ODA's published continuous disclosure policy.

Kind Regards,
