2. FY24 pro forma NPAT has been adjusted for IPO related costs.

3. FY25 and FY24 pro forma NPAT has been adjusted to reflect the operating results and cost of closure of the National Radiators Ltd (NZ) subsidiary as a Discontinued Operation; refer to Note 11 of the Adrad Holdings Limited Annual Report 2025.

4. The Company has elected to impair an internally developed R&D asset related to the development of a new product and manufacturing technique that in its present form is not economically viable.

Adrad CEO, Paul Proctor said: "FY25 marked a year of growth and strategic adjustment. Despite a challenging macroeconomic backdrop and operational pressures that impacted our margins, we delivered an 8.9% increase in revenue, highlighting the resilience and diversification of our business model and strength of our relationships and market positioning.

In response to these challenges, we accelerated key initiatives focused on operational efficiency and disciplined cost management, while maintaining a clear commitment to long-term value creation. We made strategic investments to enhance manufacturing processes, expand our distribution network, and grow our presence in key markets.

As these initiatives progressed, we continued to strengthen our operational foundations, with improvements that are already driving increased productivity and resilience. These efforts have positioned the Company to enter FY26 with greater efficiency, stronger customer engagement, and a solid platform for continued growth."

Outlook

The Board and management are positive about the prospects for FY26. The Company continues to implement measures to become more proactive in addressing sell price movements and purchase cost pressures. Substantial work has taken place in identifying and implementing manufacturing enhancements to drive cost efficiencies and reduce warranties. The HTS segment invested in its southeast Asia market development through the employment of a dedicated business development manager and refinement of fit-for-market products. In-field testing of above ground, below ground and on-highway alu-fin prototypes are expected to be substantially completed during FY26 with the aim of then commercialising these products.

The data centre market outlook remains robust with our power generation cooling product being a critical component. And we will continue our push into service work in rail and remote power generation. While expansion of our Distribution footprint is planned for FY26.
