OPERATIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

Signed a transformative $50m five-year agreement with VMO2, a Joint Venture between Telefónica and Liberty Global

A strategic five-year agreement with one of USA's largest renewable energy portfolios, for an estimated contract value of $16m

Acquired assets from CONUTI in Germany enhancing our investment and presence in the German market

Restructured business into two operating verticals for better operating efficiency and alignment

Harnessing AI to boost productivity through smarter automation and rapid application rollout

Delivered strong EBITDA growth with Underlying and Cash EBITDA margins well above original expectations

RESULTS DETAILS

Richard English - Chief Financial Officer

STRONG OPERATING MOMENTUM DRIVES GROWTH IN REVENUE, CASH AND EBITDA

Operating Revenue ($m)

- Operating revenue up 11.2% from FY24, supported by strong industry tailwinds in both Verticals
- The core business achieved an Operating revenue CAGR across the last 3 years of circa 6%

Underlying EBITDA ($m)

- Underlying EBITDA increased 20.9% vs FY24, reflecting improved efficiency, cost discipline and a faster than anticipated shift to profitability in Germany
- Solid Underlying EBITDA margin of 28.5%

Underlying NPATA ($m)

- Underlying NPATA up 43.3% from FY24
- NPAT up 105.7% and Underlying NPAT up 52.3%
- Increases are supported by the integration of powercloud and recognition of tax assets

Cash EBITDA ($m)

- Cash EBITDA increased 21.5% with an FY25 Cash EBITDA margin of 23.8%
- Our continued investment in R&D and AI-driven product innovation enhances customer outcomes and drives future growth

HARNESSING GLOBAL REACH AND DIVERSITY TO DRIVE GROWTH

Revenue Diversity

- Supporting hundreds of Tier 1 and 2 clients in over 80 countries, Hansen generates revenue that is highly diversified by geography, industry vertical, currency, and product line
- Hansen’s steady, predictable income is underpinned by long-term contracts in two essential service segments Communications & Media and Energy & Utilities
- This diversity and contractual stability helps provide strong protection against customer or market concentration, reinforcing the resilience of Hansen’s global business model

Support & Application Revenue ($m)

- Highly predictable and repeatable revenue sources
- Key implementation activities completed during FY24 in Americas & APAC with strong growth of 21.8% in EMEA

Licence Revenue ($m)

- Under IFRS 15, licence recognition varies by customer and solution
- Certain contracts require upfront licence revenue recognition
- Term licences contribute ~9–12% of annual revenue

COMMUNICATIONS & MEDIA

Revenue by Region ($m)

Licence Revenue ($m)

Contribution Margin

| Result ($m) | FY25 | FY24 | Variance (%) |
|---------------------|-------|-------|--------------|
| Revenue | 171.3 | 148.9 | 15.0% |
| Segment Expenses | 77.4 | 75.9 | 2.0% |
| Segment Result | 93.9 | 73.0 | 28.6% |
| Contribution Margin | 54.8% | 49.0% | |

Market Trends:

- Market Growth: Rising demand for 5G, IoT, and digital services is driving the need for agile CPQ, Catalog, and Provisioning solutions
- Tech Evolution: Telcos are seeking AI-driven product catalogs, real-time provisioning, and dynamic pricing to stay competitive
- Revenue Shift: Operators are expanding into network slicing, IoT, and bundled services, needing faster activation and flexible offers
- Key Trends: AI-powered CPQ, cloud-native catalog management, no-code configuration, and API-led automation

Why This Is Good for Hansen:

- Hansen CPQ & Catalog streamlines complex pricing and quoting and ensures real-time, consistent product management
- Hansen Provision automates activation, reducing costs and time-to-market
- Competitive Edge: API-first, modular solutions for seamless telecom integration

ENERGY & UTILITIES

Revenue by Region ($m)

Support and Application Revenue ($m)

Contribution Margin

| Result ($m) | FY25 | FY24 | Variance (%) |
|----------------------------|--------------|--------------|---------------|
| Revenue | 221.2 | 204.2 | 8.3% |
| Segment Expenses | 140.5 | 116.3 | 20.8% |
| Segment Result | 80.7 | 87.9 | (8.2%) |
| Contribution Margin | 36.5% | 43.0% | |

- The E&U Segment result in FY25 was impacted by one-off restructuring costs relating to powercloud and the core, as well as the short-term impact of the lower gross margins from the powercloud acquisition.
- Excluding powercloud, the E&U Segment Revenue 3 year CAGR exceeds 6%

Market Trends:

- Smart Metering Growth: EU electricity customers with smart meters will increase from 60% (2023) to 80% (2029)⁽¹⁾
- Tech-Driven Expansion: New IoT technologies accelerating smart metering adoption⁽¹⁾
- CIS Market Growth: Customer information systems market will reach $2.73B by 2029, growing at 13.3% CAGR⁽²⁾
- Key Trends: AI, predictive analytics, IoT, mobile access, personalisation, real-time processing, digital twins

Why This is Good for Hansen:

- Market Opportunity: Growth in smart metering and CIS aligns with Hansen's expertise
- Tech Integration: Hansen's AI, IoT, and analytics support utility transformation
- Customer-Centric Solutions: Hansen helps utilities enhance billing, operations, and customer engagement

STRONG CASH GENERATION AND CONVERSION

Group Cash Flow ($m)

 Reinvesting in our products

- $18.3m of capitalised R&D with more expensed refining our core products

 Returning funds to shareholders

- Paid out $18.9m of dividends to shareholders

 Continued M&A investment

- The Group purchased assets from CONUTI for $11.2m and invested $2.2m in Dial AI

 Strong Cash flow Conversion

- Cash Conversion Ratio which is EBITDA divided by Net cash from operating activities is stable at 0.7x
- Reflecting the continued wind down of working capital, at the time of this presentation Hansen is Net cash positive

ROBUST FINANCIALS, DISCIPLINED CAPITAL USE

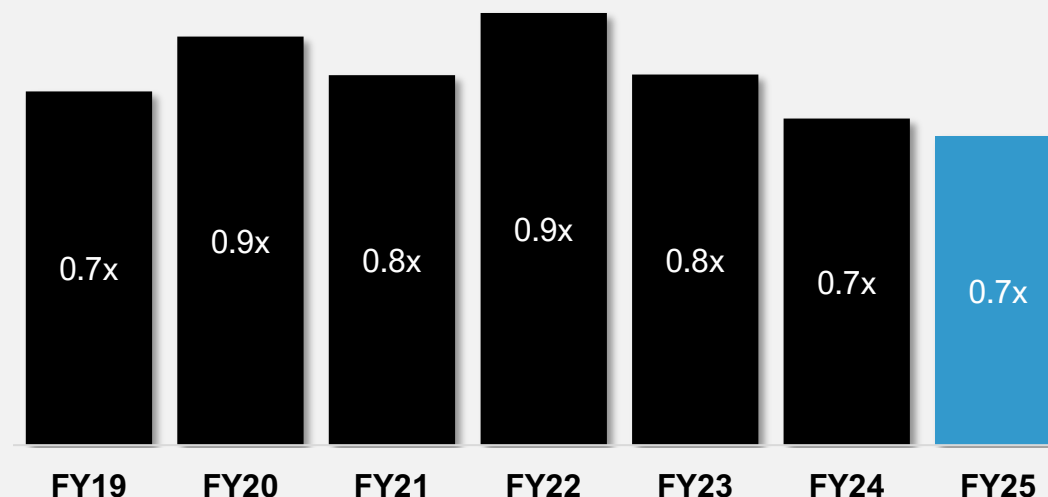

Rapid Debt Reduction

Borrowings ($m)

Strong and Stable Cash Generation

Cash Conversion Ratio²

Borrowing Levels

Down $120.4m since FY19

Borrowing levels down 65% including recent acquisitions
Leverage Ratio¹ less than 0.2x

Dividends

$120.7m paid since FY19

We prioritise the careful return of funds to our shareholders while retaining sufficient capital for further acquisition opportunities

1. Leverage Ratio is Net Debt (Cash Assets less Interest-Bearing Liabilities) divided by Underlying EBITDA. Underlying EBITDA is a non-IFRS term, defined as earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation and excluding net foreign exchange gains (losses) and separately disclosed items, which represent the one-off costs during the period.

2. Cash Conversion Ratio is EBITDA divided by Net cash from operating activities

DISCIPLINED, CUSTOMER-FOCUSED R&D DRIVES INNOVATION AND LONG-TERM VALUE

Driving Forces for R&D:

- Customer-Led Innovation – Enhancing product capabilities to meet evolving customer needs
- Regulatory & Market Trends – Staying ahead of industry standards and competitive pressures
- Technology Advancements – Leveraging AI, cloud, and automation for next-gen solutions
- Operational Efficiency – Improving scalability and cost-effectiveness of our solutions

Energy & Utilities Sector

- Transition to renewable energy, decentralised grids and Virtual Power Plants
- Demand for smart metering & real-time billing solutions
- Increasing regulatory compliance and market reforms

Telecommunications & Media

- Evolution to 5G, IoT, and network virtualisation.
- Need for scalable, cloud-based BSS/OSS solutions
- Growth in subscription-based & bundled services

Disciplined R&D Investment:

- Strategic Focus – Aligning R&D spend with long-term growth and value creation
- ROI-Driven Decisions – Prioritising projects with strong commercial potential
- Governance & Review – Regular assessment to ensure efficiency and impact

R&D Spend Allocation:

- Capitalised – Long-term product development investments
- Expensed – Continuous enhancements & operational improvements including market-leading solutions developed with client funding

~$34.5m spent on Capitalised and Expensed R&D in FY25

SUSTAINABILITY

Richard English - Chief Financial Officer

SUSTAINABILITY AT THE CORE OF LONG-TERM VALUE CREATION

FY25 Highlights

|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  | Exceeded Emissions Reduction Target | Achieved a 40% reduction in Australian emissions two years ahead of FY26 target; Australia certified carbon neutral for the fourth consecutive year |
|  | Global Emissions Benchmarking | Established global Scope 1–3 GHG emissions baseline |
|  | Customer-Focused Climate Innovation | Launched AI-Optimised Trade Solution and expanded Community Solar Platform supporting customers' net-zero transitions |
|  | Inclusive and Diverse Workforce | Maintained strong female leadership representation and delivered a new wellbeing & safety hub |
|  | Strengthened Supplier Engagement | Rolled out sustainability self-assessments to suppliers enhancing transparency and supply chain resilience |
|  | Climate Scenarios | Conducted climate scenario analysis with independent experts to assess climate risks and opportunities and support resilient strategic planning |
|  | ASRS Readiness | Completed IFRS/ASRS readiness assessment and delivered largely AASB S2 compliant Sustainability Report to enhance disclosure quality and align with emerging standards |
|  | Material Topics | Refreshed materiality assessment with global stakeholder engagement to ensure our strategy aligns with key ESG priorities |

Sustainability Recognition

Since FY21, Hansen's Australian operations have been certified carbon neutral by Climate Active. We have invested only in tangible wind power projects. Moving forward we will begin shifting our focus to a science-based emissions reduction pathway

In November 2024, Hansen was awarded the EcoVadis "Committed" badge, recognising our strong performance in sustainability and commitment to continuous ESG improvement.

In March 2025, MSCI upgraded Hansen's ESG rating to AA, recognising Hansen as a leader in managing ESG risks and opportunities.

GERMAN MARKET EXPANSION FUELS HANSEN'S EUROPEAN GROWTH STRATEGY

powercloud now cash generative and delivered positive Underlying EBITDA for FY25

Continued investment in Germany with the acquisition of key assets from CONUTI

Pipeline building, driven by Germany's energy transition and smart meter rollout

Continued focus on existing customers in the German market, with a re-launch finalised as Hansen Germany

Significant investment behind the core German product meeting the regulatory change deadline on time and on budget

Focused on product enhancement to support customers in the rapidly changing German market

M&A STRATEGY

Hansen continues to actively manage its M&A pipeline and is well placed to execute on strategic opportunities with strong operational and financial bandwidth

Targeted Industry Criteria

Energy & Utilities:

- Targeting entry into high-growth markets or scale/product expansion in existing jurisdictions (e.g. CIS, MDM, energy trade, market messaging, etc.)

Communications & Media:

- Pursuing solutions aligned with global standards (e.g. TM Forum) that enhance scale and complement Hansen's global product platform (e.g. CC&B, catalog, provisioning, etc.)

Third Industry Vertical:

- Exploring new verticals that demonstrate strong strategic alignment and offer opportunities to leverage Hansen's commercial and technical capabilities – particularly in financial services, healthcare, and education
- A focused analysis of the insurance sector reveals a high degree of alignment with Hansen's core strengths, indicating strong potential for growth and impact

Company-Specific Criteria

Focus on providing mission critical, enterprise software

Clear ownership of intellectual property (IP)

Opportunities for technology leverage or transfer

Predictable and recurring revenues and cash flows

Long-term tier 1 and 2 customer relationships

Leverage our commercial & technical delivery expertise

ADVANCING WITH AI – DRIVING OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCY

AI now a core enabler of Hansen's technology roadmap

Strategic AI Integration across key platforms and product lines to enhance automation, analytics, and decision-making

Productivity gains realised through automation of repetitive tasks and intelligent workflow optimisation

Headcount efficiencies achieved without compromising delivery or customer experience
Enhanced support scalability across global operations

Smarter Operations – AI in Action

AI-driven tools are transforming Hansen's core operational areas by accelerating speed, reducing manual effort, and improving quality:

- Testing and QA Efficiency
Automated test generation and defect prediction are significantly reducing QA cycles and increasing release confidence helping to reduce costs significantly
- Customer Support Resolution & Documentation
AI-powered knowledge retrieval and case triaging are shortening response times, enabling faster, more accurate support at scale reducing reliance on analysts
- Data Migration & System Integration
Intelligent mapping and validation tools are streamlining complex migrations, lowering risk and reducing time-to-value for customers

Outlook – Scaling AI Impact

Hansen is planning to build long-term advantage through deep AI integration

- Deep AI integration
Across development, testing, and product workflows to drive structural cost savings
- Enhanced R&D efficiency
Automation supporting margin growth without proportional headcount increases
- Investment in predictive analytics
AI-driven insights to create new revenue opportunities
- Continued AI expansion
To improve service quality, scalability, and customer satisfaction
- Strengthened customer engagement
Leveraging AI to deliver personalised experiences and proactive support
- Sustained competitive advantage
AI is helping position Hansen for sustained competitive advantage and long-term value creation

OUTLOOK

Andrew Hansen – Global CEO & Managing Director

OUTLOOK

Hansen continues to target organic revenue growth of 5–7% over the medium-term, supported by sector tailwinds and ongoing product innovation, noting that FY25 had a higher proportion of licence revenue than is expected in FY26. We continue to target a medium-term Underlying EBITDA margin of 30% or above through disciplined cost management and operational efficiency

Growth Indicators

Decarbonisation mandates: Stricter global emissions targets force utilities to modernise billing and analytics, directly boosting demand for Hansen's modules and distributed-asset monetisation solutions

Smart-grid roll-outs: National smart-meter and grid-modernisation programmes expand meter-point volumes, expanding the addressable market for Hansen's scalable billing, CRM and data-management platforms

Digital transformation: We are beginning to see increased IT spending by Energy and Telecommunications operators on cloud migration, best-in-breed software and API-driven ecosystems which accelerates the adoption of Hansen's cloud-first, integration-ready software

5G and edge computing: The roll-out of 5G and edge-computing services, demands high-throughput, low-latency billing and settlement. This plays to Hansen's strengths in large-scale transaction processing and partner-ecosystem integrations

AI and data-analytics adoption: Operators embedding AI/ML for predictive maintenance and personalised customer engagement tap directly into Hansen's growing suite of AI-enabled modules and analytics toolkits

ESG and regulatory reporting: New disclosure regimes require robust data-capture, audit-trail and compliance workflows - driving the need for Hansen's highly accurate data analytics modules

Electrification of transport: The continued rapid uptake of EV's creates thousands of new charge-point meter points, feeding Hansen's billing engines and accelerating recurring-revenue growth

Industry consolidation and partnerships: There will be continued consolidation across the market as regional providers struggle to keep up with increased demands for product innovation, helping support Hansen's M&A strategy
