Comments

The loss for the consolidated entity after providing for income tax amounted to $3,599,487 (30 June 2024: $23,040,028).

The loss for the year of $3,599,487 (30 June 2024: $23,040,028) was after an impairment of intangible assets of $nil (30 June 2024: $19,955,063). The loss excluding the impairment was $3,599,487 (30 June 2024: $3,084,965 loss). There is a 16.7% increase of $514,522 in the loss excluding the impairment expense.

Revenue from ordinary activities was down 22.5% to $8,743,622 (30 June 2024: $11,277,401). The reduction in revenue and gross profit relates primarily to matters already disclosed to the market concerning Telstra discontinuing its GPA firewall product and closure of its CSX2 platform as well as there being some significant non-recurring revenues in the prior comparative year.

The company has continued to reduce cash usage, with no operational cash used over the year being a significantly pleasing result. The company has been through extensive restructuring to align costs and skills with current and projected revenues and to focus on AI powered compliance management and the monetisation of the estimated 150,000 organisations using the company's free/open source Open-AudIT product as a "blue sky" opportunity.

The company renewed and extended major agreements with numerous organisations which were announced during the year and also completed a restructuring of its key agreement with Telstra which was anticipated and also announced to the market.

Significant to the company is the renewal/extension of the company's agreement with Telmex (Mexico's dominant telecommunications provider) where several strategic and potentially transformative conversations are under way. The America's and specifically Latin America remain exciting regions for the company's next stage of growth with the company also working closely with Telmex's sister companies, Claro, in Ecuador, Dominican Republic and Guatemala who are all part of the América Móvil Group [BMV: AMX] [NYSE: AMX, AMOV] and multiple blue-chip clients in the USA including Microsoft [NASDAQ:MSFT], Raytheon [NYSE: RTX] and NASA.

The company released several new technologies which were announced to the market and most notably post year-end, the company released in to testing its first AI powered security compliance reporting which is key in targeting the commercialisation of the significant base of Open-AudIT users by offering AI powered compliance management driven by the data held within Open-AudIT.

In addition to several new sales, the company also announced a new partnership with AWS and Ingram Micro to launch FirstWave products on to the AWS marketplace – commencing with CyberCision. Funding has been provided by Ingram Micro and AWS to support the launch and marketing of FirstWave's products.

The company is pleased to have received over $2,000,000 in cash receipts from customers since the closing of the 2025 financial year which bolsters the company's cash position. The board continues to work with supportive partner Fenja capital on extension of its convertible note and considers a variety of options to leverage capital to accelerate growth.

Overall, the board sees great opportunities for growth, with costs under control, in particular the "blue sky" opportunity to monetise the Open-AudIT user base by targeting AI powered compliance management, the new relationship with AWS and the potential expansion of the relationship with Telmex. The board looks forward to a successful FY26 for all shareholders.
