NEXUS APPOINTED BY TIMOR-LESTE TO PROMOTE SECOND LICENSING ROUND

Aspermont (ASX:ASP, FRA:00W), the global leader in B2B media for the resource sectors, continues to accelerate the growth of Nexus, its strategic marketing and communications division, with the latest government partnership secured with Timor-Leste's Autoridade Nacional dos Minerais (ANM).

Now in only its second year of operation, Nexus has become the trusted marketing partner for the global mining industry. Through multi-year collaborations with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the Australian Government, and leading companies such as BHP, Rio Tinto, and ThyssenKrupp, Nexus has demonstrated its ability to shape, deliver, and scale credible, data-driven campaigns that reach the world's most influential mining audiences.

The Timor-Leste appointment reflects Nexus's rapidly growing reputation for supporting national-level resource strategies. Working alongside the ANM, Nexus will deliver targeted campaigns, investor briefings, and thought-leadership programs designed to raise international awareness, attract qualified investment, and position the country as a responsible and competitive mining jurisdiction.

With over three million digital users worldwide and more than 560 years of combined editorial heritage across its brands, Aspermont provides the credibility, reach, and depth of insight that make Nexus uniquely effective in connecting governments, investors, and the global mining community.

Alex Kent, Managing Director of Aspermont, said:

"Nexus is becoming one of the most exciting growth stories within Aspermont. In just two years, it has secured a portfolio of high-profile partnerships with governments and major resource companies, demonstrating its strength as a scalable, high-margin business that enhances the quality and diversity of our revenues."

Joshua Robertson, Chief Marketing Officer of Aspermont, said:

“Nexus’s success comes from a unique combination of editorial authority, proprietary data, and access to a trusted global audience of over three million mining professionals. Our partnerships show that the industry values a credible voice backed by real insight. The addition of Timor-Leste reinforces our trajectory as we continue to scale Nexus with new talent and new opportunities.”
