

ASX Announcement

New Debt Facility

28 November 2025

McPherson's Limited (ASX:MCP) announces that today it has entered a new three (3) year debt facility with the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, Sydney Branch (ARBN 117 925 970) (HSBC) for total facilities of $16.2 million, comprising a $10 million full recourse receivables finance facility and a $6.2 million revolving credit facility.

As announced at the full year results on 27 August 2025, McPherson's has been engaged in a process to refinance its existing debt facility, which was due to expire in March 2026.

The existing facility was put in place in March 2023 with a total capacity of $52.5 million. Since that time, McPherson's embarked upon a comprehensive transformation of its business operations, exited non-core activities, including the Multix brand¹ and full warehousing capabilities, and significantly reduced the Company's financing requirements through changes in its route to market, operating model and working capital needs.

As an interim measure, in February 2025, McPherson's announced it had reduced the working capital finance component of the existing facility from $45.0 million to $25.0 million².

Given the Company's net cash position and anticipated financing requirements following the implementation of the new operating model, management has determined that total facilities of $16.2 million are more appropriate for the needs of the Company.
