

ASX/AIM RELEASE

24 December 2025

Celsius Corporate Update

Celsius Resources Limited ("Celsius" or the "Company") (ASX,AIM:CLA) is pleased to announce that it is in discussions with a prominent Financial Advisory firm to assist with finalising the financing for the Maalinao-Caigutan-Biyog Copper-Gold Project ("Project" or "MCB"), held under its Philippine Affiliate Company, Makilala Mining Co., Inc. ("MMCI").

The Company has received strong interest in financing the MCB Project from several well-qualified international mining groups with proven experience in copper and gold project finance, metal streaming, and concentrate offtake. In addition to structured and debt financing proposals, the Company has also received expressions of interest for Project equity participation. Given the importance of such a decision for the future of the Company, the MCB Project and value creation for shareholders, the Board considered that additional financial analysis and advice will be of value in reaching the ultimate decision. Engagement of the financial advisor and the planned process to complete the financing will soon be announced.

The Company's search for a new Chair continues and shareholders will be updated further at the appropriate time.

Feasibility Study

The Company had originally planned to announce the final Feasibility Study for the MCB Copper-Gold Project in December 2025. A brief timing adjustment has been made to allow for the confirmation of two isolated test results that were not aligned with the otherwise consistent positive study outcomes. This confirmatory work is being undertaken as part of the Company's normal quality-control process to ensure the final Feasibility Study is delivered to the highest standard and with full confidence for investors.

Importantly, all other components of the Feasibility Study – including the mine plan, process design, capital and operating cost estimates, financial model, and supporting expert reports - have been finalised, subject only to incorporation of the confirmatory metallurgical results. This additional work does not indicate any underlying issue with the Project or its development strategy but reflects the Company's disciplined and conservative approach to delivering a robust, investment-ready study. As a result of this additional testwork, there may be some minor adjustments to some capital equipment or process plant operating costs. It is not expected to be of any significant impact to the overall project.

While this confirmatory work was not originally scheduled, the Company has accepted a short delay in order to deliver a high-quality Feasibility Study that meets the expectations of financiers, regulators, and long-term investors. The Company now expects to release the final Feasibility Study in January 2026.

Executive Director Neil Grimes commented:

"Whilst the delay in finalising the Feasibility Study and financing package is not ideal, we are confident that the announcement of the final feasibility report in January, and the impending engagement of a world-class financial advisory firm will enable the Board of Directors in making the best decision possible to move forward into construction with the MCB Copper-Gold Project in 2026"

This announcement has been authorised by the Board of Directors of Celsius Resources Limited.
