Half Year Report to 31 December 2025

Mirrabooka is an investor in small and mid-cap companies seeking to provide attractive income and capital growth over the medium to long term to shareholders at a low cost.

Half Year Profit was $8.9 million, up from $4.6 million in the prior corresponding period, with the options and trading portfolios contributing a significant amount to this increase. Higher cash levels following the rights issue in May 2025 also provided a boost to interest income for the half year.

The interim dividend has been maintained at 4.5 cents per share fully franked.

For the six-month period, Mirrabooka's portfolio return including the benefit of franking was 1.3%. The combined Small Ordinaries and Mid Cap 50 sector benchmark including franking was 14.3% over the same period.

The 12-month portfolio return including franking was 1.2%. The combined Small Ordinaries and Mid Cap 50 benchmark return over the corresponding period including franking was 22.5%.

During these periods, small and mid-cap resources were up substantially with the one year returns for these sectors up 73.0% and 104.3% respectively. Gold, which is included in these figures was up 127% for the year. Mirrabooka is not a large investor in these sectors given the highly cyclical nature of many companies within this area of the market. Returns from industrial stocks in the mid and small cap index where Mirrabooka is mostly focused were far more subdued, with mid cap industrials delivering 5.0% and small cap industrials delivering 8.8% in 2025.

The other factor to impact relative performance was the pull-back in the share prices of many holdings in the portfolio from 12 months ago. This includes large core holdings in the portfolio such as Macquarie Technology Group, ARB Corporation, Gentrack Group, Mainfreight, CAR Group and Breville Group. In addition, share price weakness in IDP Education, James Hardie Industries, Redox and Equity Trustees also impacted relative performance. The value of Corporate Travel was also written down during the period.

Long term performance, which is aligned with Mirrabooka's investment objectives, remains sound in what is a more volatile sector in the Australian and New Zealand equity markets.

Portfolio return (including the full benefit of franking) to 31 December 2025

Per annum returns other than for six months. Mirrabooka's performance numbers are after costs.

Past performance is not indicative of future performance.

Market Commentary and Portfolio Performance

The S&P/ASX200 delivered a 10.3% return in the 2025 calendar year, with significant dispersion of performance across different market sectors.

Resource stocks had the strongest returns, buoyed by positive runs in gold, copper, rare earths and, most recently, lithium commodity prices, leading to a 104.3% return for the mid cap resources index and 73.0% for the small cap resources index.

Consistent with Mirrabooka's 26-year history, we've largely avoided direct investment in mining stocks as their cyclical nature and lack of competitive advantage don't suit our long term investment approach.

Returns from industrial stocks in the mid and small cap index were far more subdued, with mid cap industrials delivering 5.0% and small cap industrials delivering 8.8% in 2025.

Gold stocks are now well represented in the mid and small cap indices, with gold rising from 7.5% of the benchmark 12 months ago to 12.1% at 31 December 2025. The benchmark has also received a boost from a sharp rise in lithium prices as Pilbara Minerals and Mineral Resources re-entered the mid cap index after performing poorly as 50 Leader Index stocks, highlighting the cyclical nature of mining stocks.

These conditions saw the mid and small cap indices significantly outperform the broader market, returning 21.7% for the year (22.5% with franking), more than double the return of the S&P/ASX200 Index.

This strong benchmark return was a challenging comparator for Mirrabooka, with the portfolio returning negative 0.1% (1.2% with franking) for the year.

Taking a longer term view, 3 and 10 year returns for Mirrabooka are broadly in line with the benchmark, while the 5-year return lagged as it cycled a strong period of prior performance for Mirrabooka.

Portfolio Adjustments

Mirrabooka's return for the year was subdued by the performance of a number of large positions in the portfolio.

Macquarie Technology Group and ARB Corporation remain our largest portfolio positions despite share price falls of around 20% for the calendar year. We retain confidence in the long-term prospects for both and have made our largest purchase for the financial year to date in Macquarie Technology Group because of its relative valuation appeal.

Share price volatility in Temple & Webster Group, Gentrack Group and Vista Group International weighed on shorter term portfolio returns, but provided investment opportunities as each holding was previously reduced at significantly higher prices before rebuilding positions after material share price falls. In our view, each of these businesses continues to grow more consistently than their share price volatility suggests.

Australia's leading olive oil producer Cobram Estates Olives, one of our more significant purchases in recent years, was a strong contributor to Mirrabooka's performance. This position was reduced in recent months with the share price having more than doubled.

Other strong portfolio performers this year included Cuscal, the recent payments infrastructure IPO, and Australia's leading automotive retailer Eagers Automotive.

Portfolio holdings that have recently challenged our investment case include James Hardie, IDP Education and Equity Trustees where share price falls have occurred because of poorly structured acquisition activity or significant changes in their operating industry. We continuously reassess the long-term market position of these companies. Our current view is that a portfolio holding remains warranted.

The suspension from trading of Corporate Travel following the announcement of irregularities in accounting and revenue charged to customers was particularly disappointing. While our holding was relatively small, the significance of the issues prompted us to review our decision-making process given the initial purchase.

Other recent purchases include the New Zealand residential property development company Winton Land, Australia's largest baby goods retailer Baby Bunting Group, the global travel accommodation wholesale business Web Travel Group, and Australian Ethical Investment.

The most material disposal from the portfolio came from the takeover of Infomedia, and our longstanding, highly successful investment in HUB24 was also reduced following a particularly strong share price rally.

Outlook

Throughout Mirrabooka's 26-year history, we've consistently focussed on holding a portfolio of stocks within our mid and small cap universe with strong long term prospects, that we can hold through varying economic conditions.

In the Australian market, the cyclical nature of mining stocks can influence returns positively or negatively led by the direction of commodity prices, and this is amplified in the mid and small cap indices. This means our short term relative returns against our benchmark can fall behind in the short term.

In recent years we have also experienced equity market conditions supportive of high-quality growing businesses that we most like to own, often making further investment challenging. We've realised more significant capital gains in the portfolio than is typical, supporting our strong franking account balance and future dividends.

With the investment cycle now swinging towards commodity price-led businesses and away from many of our larger portfolio holdings, we're becoming more encouraged by the valuations available within our investment focus.

Combined with our strong cash position following the rights issue we conducted in May 2025, and the ongoing progress of the businesses that we are invested in, we are optimistic about being able to continue to access more value-adding long term investment opportunities in 2026.

Responsibilities of the directors for the half-year financial report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the half-year financial report, in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001, including giving a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the half-year financial report that is free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibilities for the review of the half-year financial report

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the half-year financial report based on our review. ASRE 2410 requires us to conclude whether we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the half-year financial report is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 31 December 2025 and of its performance for the half-year ended on that date, and complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
