Quarterly Activities Report

- Phase 1 Soil Sampling completed at the North Achilles project with samples analysed at LabWest via Ultrafine™ (UFF) approach
- Results outline precious and base metal anomalies along both the Uabba and Kilparney Faults, within the broader Achilles Shear Zone
- Soil sampling follows recent execution of land access agreement with landholder and early site reconnaissance
- The recent record gold and silver prices along with momentum behind copper and the exploration success of neighbouring explorers provide a compelling setting for potential discovery

Regener8 Resources NL (ASX: R8R) (Regener8 or the Company) is pleased to provide a summary of activities for the quarter ending 31 December 2025.

Exploration update: North Achilles (NSW) - Phase 1 UFF Soil Sampling

The North Achilles project (southern Cobar Basin, NSW – Figure 3) is located immediately adjacent to tenements held by Australian Gold and Copper Ltd (ASX:AGC) and approximately 2.2km north of the Achilles discovery. AGC achieved outstanding drill results at Achilles including 5 metres @ 16.9g/t Au, 1,667g/t Ag, 0.4% Cu & 15% Pb + Zn (A3RC030 – AGC ASX Ann. 04.06.2024) and has led to the recent maiden resource estimate of 38.5Moz AgEq (AGC ASX Ann 11.12.2025).

The North Achilles project is located on the western margin of the Rast Trough, with the geological structural architecture locally dominated by the convergence of the Uabba Fault and the Kilparney Fault. This junction of two major regional faults is interpreted as a zone of significant structural complexity that may serve as a conduit for mineralising fluids. Magnetic inversion and structural interpretation suggest that the Achilles Shear Zone, which hosts AGC's known discoveries to the south, projects northward into the tenement under shallow cover. The Phase 1 UFF program was designed to test this area of fault intersection with a focus on detecting a geochemical signature of the basement geology through the shallow cover.

Within 3 months of finalising a land access agreement with the private landholder on which EL9718 is situated, Regener8 executed the soil sampling program and received the results. The UFF program has highlighted clear anomalies along and within the Achilles shear, Uabba and Kilparney faults, and interpreted splays.

The initial soil sampling campaign over the south-eastern portion of the tenement (EL9718) on 100m x 200m spacing (ASX Ann 15.10.2025) collected a total of 207 samples. This was the first time any significant exploration had been undertaken on this ground, believed to be a result of the shallow cover present in the project area that obscures the prospective basement. Samples were sent to Labwest Mineral Analysis (Perth) and were analysed via the Ultrafine™ (UFF) approach. This Ultrafine™ method was specifically selected for North Achilles as it has the potential to generate anomalies and targets under shallow cover.

The UFF soil geochemistry results define distinct areas of anomalous characterised by coincident elevated Cu-Au-Ag-Pb geochemistry above the 90th percentile threshold (Figure 2), consistent with known mineral systems within the Cobar district. The multi-element anomalies show scale with individual zones of anomalous extending up to 1.5km in length.

The multi-element footprint identified at North Achilles is similar to the major polymetallic systems of the Cobar region, including the Peak Mine and former Hera Mine operated by Aurelia Metals

ASX R8R

(ASX: AMI), as well as the Federation deposit held by Aurelia Metals (ASX: AMI). These deposits exhibit:

- fault-controlled polymetallic mineralisation, typically localised along basin-bounding splays and second-order structures
- Au-Ag-Cu-Pb-Zn geochemical halos surrounding high-grade ore, and
- strong pathfinder associations including As-Sb-Bi-Mo ± W, which expand the detectable footprint beyond direct ore metals

North Achilles displays similar element associations and structural setting, strengthening confidence in the exploration model.

The current robust pricing backdrop for metals such as Au, Ag and Cu is driving renewed enthusiasm in the exploration sector. In this macro environment, exploration projects like North Achilles which are located immediately proximal to known mineralisation yet have received no modern exploration with modern techniques such as UFF and geophysical targeting are well positioned to leverage the current commodity cycle.

Targeted infill and extension soil sampling across the remainder of the tenement is being planned for early CY2026, to be completed ahead of additional exploration targeting methods such as IP, with the intention of progressively advancing North Achilles toward a drill-ready status.
