FirstWave Cloud Technology Limited (ASX:FCT) has been awarded a two-year subscription contract with Banobras, Mexico's state-owned national development bank, following a competitive tender process.

The contract has a total value of USD250,000 (approximately AUD350,000), commences April 2026 and runs to March 2028. Payment is at Banobras' election – annual or two years in advance.

The subscription is delivered as software with no incremental cost of delivery, generating 100% gross margin to FirstWave.

Banobras is Mexico's leading development bank, financing infrastructure and public services for federal, state and municipal governments. It is ranked among the top five Mexican financial institutions by total portfolio.

Strategic significance – AI compliance management

The Banobras award is a milestone in executing FirstWave's AI-powered compliance management strategy, progressively outlined to the market through prior ASX announcements: the initial capability announcement on 20 August 2025*; the supporting A$2.85 million capital raise in September 2025; and the global launch of Open-Audit 6 in November 2025. The strategy targets conversion of FirstWave's Open-Audit freemium base (approximately 150,000 organisations) and monetisation of the extensive on-premise data held within FirstWave products through AI-powered compliance features.

The Company sees potential for scope expansion within Banobras and extension of the contract term in future years.

First significant deal through OmniPrinter channel

Banobras is the first significant agreement secured through OmniPrinter, a related company of Grupo Salinas – one of Mexico's largest corporate conglomerates, with interests spanning telecommunications, banking, retail, media and renewable energy.

ASX Announcement

22 April 2026

FirstWave CEO Danny Maher said: "The Banobras win validates the AI-powered compliance management strategy that underpinned our strategic shift and the Open-AudIT 6 release. The solution delivered is exactly what that strategy anticipated – Open-AudIT 6's AI compliance features augmented with opConfig, on a recurring subscription at 100% gross margin. Banobras is a strong public sector reference and is in a market where compliance is a priority. The OmniPrinter channel gives us a platform to pursue further opportunities in Mexico, including within the wider Grupo Salinas ecosystem, where we are already engaged on several opportunities. My thanks to the LATAM and Australian engineering teams who delivered this outcome."
