1. REPORTING ENTITY

NexGen Energy Ltd. ("NexGen" or the "Company") is an exploration and development stage entity engaged in the acquisition, exploration and evaluation and development of uranium properties in Canada. The Company was incorporated pursuant to the provisions of the British Columbia Business Corporations Act on March 8, 2011. The Company's registered records office is located on the 25th Floor, 700 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, B.C., V7Y 1B3.

The Company is listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") under the symbol "NXE" and is a reporting issuer in each of the provinces and territories of Canada. On July 2, 2021, the Company commenced trading on the Australian Stock Exchange (the "ASX") under the symbol "NXG". On March 4, 2022, the Company up-listed from the NYSE American exchange (the "NYSE American") and began trading on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") under the symbol "NXE".

The Company holds an investment in IsoEnergy Ltd. ("IsoEnergy") which is engaged in the acquisition, exploration and development of uranium properties in Canada, the United States of America and Australia. The Company owns approximately 29.9% of IsoEnergy's outstanding common shares as of March 31, 2026 (December 31, 2025 - 30.0%) and accounts for its investment using the equity method of accounting. IsoEnergy's shares are traded on the TSX and the NYSE American.

2. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

As an exploration and development stage company, the Company does not have revenues and historically has had recurring operating losses. As at March 31, 2026, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $847,270, working capital surplus of $277,476 including the convertible debentures, and $655,437 of cash. On October 15, 2025, the Company completed an equity financing with gross proceeds of approximately $948.6 million (Note 10), and although the Company will be required to obtain additional funding to continue with the exploration and development of its mineral properties, including the Rook I Project ("Project") for which a licence to prepare the site and commence construction was issued on March 5, 2026, the Company has sufficient working capital excluding the convertible debentures (for which there is no obligation to cash settle in the next fifteen months) to meet its current obligations for at least the next fifteen months.

The business of exploring for minerals and development of projects involves a high degree of risk. NexGen is an exploration and development company and is subject to risks and challenges similar to companies at a comparable stage. These risks include, but are not limited to, development and operational risks inherent in development stage mining projects; uncertainties in the exploration for mineral resources; changes in government policies and regulations; the ability to obtain the necessary environmental permits or, alternatively, NexGen's ability to dispose of its exploration and evaluation assets on an advantageous basis; global economic and uranium price volatility; and the challenges of securing adequate capital, all of which are uncertain.

3. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Basis of Presentation

These condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard ("IAS") 34, Interim Financial Reporting, using accounting policies consistent with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IFRS Accounting Standards"). Certain disclosures required by IFRS Accounting Standards have been condensed or omitted in the following note disclosures as they are disclosed or have been disclosed on an annual basis only. Accordingly, these condensed interim consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024 ("Annual Financial Statements"), which have been prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards. These condensed interim consolidated financial statements follow the same accounting policies and methods of application as the Annual Financial Statements except for assets under construction and borrowing costs (Note 3(b)).

On May 5, 2026, the Board of Directors authorized these financial statements for issuance.

b) Adoption of material accounting policies

Assets under Construction

Assets under construction include the costs of the construction of mining and processing facilities, along with borrowing costs capitalized during construction, on a mineral property for which technical feasibility and commercial viability have been demonstrated, after the relevant exploration and evaluation asset is tested for impairment. Upon completion of the impairment test, management concluded that no impairment charge was required for the Project (Note 4).

Assets under construction are not considered to be available for use and are, therefore, not subject to depreciation. When an asset becomes available for use, its cost is transferred from assets under construction to mineral properties or property, plant and equipment, as appropriate.

Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs attributable to the construction of qualifying assets, which take a substantial period of time to make ready for their intended use, are added to the cost of the assets until such time as the assets are substantially complete and ready for their intended use. The amount of borrowing costs capitalized cannot exceed the actual amount of borrowing costs incurred in a period. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

Adoption of new accounting standards

In May 2024, the International Accounting standards Board (the "IASB") issued Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments – Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7. These amendments updated classification and measurement requirements in IFRS 9 Financial Instruments and related disclosure requirements in IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures. The IASB clarified the recognition and derecognition date of certain financial assets and liabilities, and amended the requirements related to settling financial liabilities using an electronic payment system. It also clarified how to assess the contractual cash flow characteristics of financial assets in determining whether they meet the solely payments of principal and interest criterion, including financial assets that have environmental, social and corporate governance - linked features and other similar contingent features. The IASB added disclosure requirements for financial instruments with contingent features that do not relate directly to basic lending risks and costs, and amended disclosures relating to equity instruments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income.

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026. For financial liabilities settled in cash using an electronic payment system, the Company has elected to deem these financial liabilities to be discharged before the settlement date. The amendments did not have a significant impact on the Company's financial statements.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS, ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Determination of commercial viability and technical feasibility of the Project

The application of the Company's accounting policy for exploration and evaluation assets required judgment to determine when commercial viability and technical feasibility of the Project was established. The Company considered the positive economics demonstrated in the feasibility study, its current capital, and the receipt of the licence to prepare the site and commence construction in March 2026, and concluded that commercial viability and technical feasibility of the Project had been demonstrated as of March 2026. At this time, the capitalized exploration and evaluation costs for the Project were assessed for impairment and reclassified to Assets under Construction within mineral property, plant and equipment.

When non-current assets are transitioned from exploration and evaluation assets to mineral property, plant and equipment, management completes an impairment test as required by IFRS Accounting Standards. For the purposes of assessing impairment, the Project was considered a single cash-generating unit. The impairment test compares the carrying amount of the assets and liabilities in the cash generating unit to their recoverable amount. Management estimated the recoverable amount based on the fair value less costs of disposal using a discounted cash flow model. Calculating the fair value less cost of disposal requires management to make estimates and assumptions with respect to quantities of ore reserves and resources, metallurgical recovery, future uranium prices, future production and sales volumes, the expected future operating, capital and reclamation costs and discount rate. Upon completion of the impairment test, management concluded that no impairment charge was required for the Project.

(expressed in thousands of Canadian dollars, except as otherwise stated) - Unaudited

Impairment of mineral property, plant and equipment

At the end of each reporting period, the Company assesses whether there are indicators of impairment that give rise to the requirement to conduct an impairment test. Internal and external factors such as significant changes in the use of the asset, legal and permitting factors, future prices, operating and capital cost forecasts, quantities of mineral reserves and resources are used by management in determining whether there are any indicators.

13. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash, short-term investments, amounts receivable, lease receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, derivatives and convertible debentures.

Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified into one of three levels in the fair value hierarchy according to the relative reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

- Level 1 - unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 - inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 - inputs that are not based on observable market data.

The Company's cash, short-term investments, amounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and lease receivable are classified as Level 1 as the fair values of the Company's cash, short-term investments, amounts receivable, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their carrying values due to their short-term nature and the lease receivable's fair value is equal to its carrying value.

The convertible debentures are re-measured at fair value at each reporting date with any change in fair value recognized in the consolidated statement of net loss with the exception that under IFRS 9, the change in fair value that is attributable to change in credit risk is presented in other comprehensive loss (Note 9).

The derivatives consist of foreign currency contracts and are measured using a market approach, based on the difference between contracted foreign exchange rates and quoted forward exchange rates as of the reporting date. As of March 31, 2026, restricted cash of $6,206 in respect of open foreign exchange contracts is included in other non-current assets (refer to "Foreign Currency Risk" below). The foreign currency derivatives are classified as Level 2.

Financial Risk

The Company is exposed to varying degrees of a variety of financial instrument-related risks. The Board approves and monitors the risk management processes, controlling and reporting structures. The type of risk exposure and the way in which such exposure is managed is provided as follows:

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss. Financial instruments potentially subject to credit risk are cash, short-term investments, amounts receivable, lease receivable, and restricted cash. The Company holds cash, short-term investments and restricted cash with large Canadian banks. The Company's amounts receivable consists of input tax credits receivable from the Government of Canada. The lease receivable is secured by the leased equipment. Accordingly, the Company does not believe it is subject to significant credit risk.

The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk is as follows:

	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025

Restricted cash	6,206	8,000
	$ 1,029,531	$ 1,136,883

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in raising funds to meet commitments associated with financial instruments. Liquidity requirements are managed based on expected cash flows to ensure that there is sufficient capital to meet short-term obligations. The Company's approach to managing liquidity risk is to ensure that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet liabilities when due. As at March 31, 2026, NexGen had cash of $655,437 to settle current liabilities of $758,538 including the convertible debentures.

The Company's significant undiscounted commitments at March 31, 2026 are as follows (the convertible debentures are classified as a current liability, however there is no obligation to cash settle these in the next twelve months):

	Less than 1 year	1 to 3 years	4 to 5 years	Over 5 years	Total
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	$ 29,724	$ –	$ –	$ –	$ 29,724
Interest payable	13,902	–	–	–	13,902
Convertible debentures (Note 9)	713,926	–	–	–	713,926
Lease liabilities	1,476	3,261	1,327	1,050	7,114
	$ 759,028	$ 3,261	$ 1,327	$ 1,050	$ 764,666

In connection with future decommissioning and reclamation costs, the Company has provided financial assurances of $6,195 since 2025 in the form of a surety bond to satisfy current regulatory requirements.

Foreign Currency Risk

The functional currency of the Company and its subsidiaries is the Canadian dollar. The Company is affected by currency transaction risk and currency translation risk. Consequently, fluctuations of the Canadian dollar in relation to other currencies impact the fair value of financial assets, liabilities and operating results. Financial assets and liabilities subject to currency translation risk primarily include US dollar denominated cash, US dollar accounts payable and the convertible debentures. The Company maintains Canadian and US dollar bank accounts in Canada.

The Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk on its US dollar denominated convertible debentures. At maturity, the aggregate US$360 million principal amount of the convertible debentures is due in full, and prior to maturity, at a premium upon the occurrence of certain events. The Company holds sufficient US dollars to make all cash interest payments due under the convertible debentures until June 10, 2026. On January 22, 2025, the Company entered a USD/CAD forward contract to hedge the balance of the foreign currency risk associated with the US dollar interest payments on the convertible debentures due to maturity. The forward contract has a notional amount of approximately $82.5 million (US$60 million), at an average rate of 1.3851, of which $73.0 million will be settled in the next 1 to 3 years and the remaining $9.5 million will be settled in the next 4 to 5 years. The fair value of the forward contract is a liability of $1,015 as at March 31, 2026.

As at March 31, 2026, the Company's US dollar net financial liabilities were US$502,136. Thus a 10% change in the Canadian dollar versus the US dollar exchange rates would give rise to a $69,878 change in net loss and comprehensive loss.

While the Company's strategic inventory is not a financial instrument, the prices of uranium are quoted in US dollars and routinely traded in US dollars, and fluctuations in the Canadian dollar relative to the US dollar can significantly impact the valuation of the Company's physical uranium in Canadian dollars.

Equity and Commodity Price Risk

The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to commodity and equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on the Company's earnings due to movements in individual equity prices or general movements in the level of the stock market. Accordingly, significant movements in share price may affect the valuation of the convertible debentures which may adversely impact the Company's earnings.

Commodity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on earnings and economic value due to commodity price movements and volatility. Future declines in commodity prices may impact the valuation of long-lived assets. The Company closely monitors commodity prices of uranium, individual equity movements, and the stock market to determine the appropriate course of action, if any, to be taken by the Company.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The Company holds its cash in bank accounts that earn variable interest rates. Due to the short-term nature of these financial instruments, fluctuations in market rates do not have a significant impact on the estimated fair value of the Company's cash balances as of March 31, 2026. The Company manages interest rate risk by maintaining an investment policy for short-term investments. This policy focuses primarily on preservation of capital and liquidity. The Company monitors the investments it makes and is satisfied with the credit rating of its banks. The convertible debentures in an aggregate principal amount of US$360 million, carry fixed interest rates of 9.0% per annum and are not subject to interest rate fluctuations.
