

Annie Production Licence

Amplitude Energy Limited (AEL: ASX, “Amplitude Energy” or “the Company”) is pleased to confirm that it has received production licence VIC/L37, which covers the discovered Annie field.

Annie was first discovered in 2019, with first gas planned for 2028. Timely approvals and regulatory certainty for oil & gas projects remain critical given the length of investment cycle required. All gas produced from Annie is expected to be supplied into the east coast domestic market for Australian consumers.
