The Company participates in the Clearing House Electronic Sub-register System, known as CHES. ASX Settlement Pty Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of ASX, operates CHES in accordance with the Listing Rules and the ASX Settlement Operating Rules.

Under CHES, the Company does not issue certificates to investors. Instead, security holders will receive a statement of their holdings in the Company, including New Options issued under this Prospectus. If an investor is broker sponsored, ASX Settlement Pty Limited will send you a CHES statement.

The CHESSE statement will specify the number of New Options issued under this Prospectus, provide details of your holder identification number, the participant identification number of the sponsor and the terms and conditions applicable to the New Options.

If you are registered on the issuer sponsored sub-register, your statement will be despatched by the Share Registry and will contain the number of New Options issued to you under this Prospectus and your security holder reference number.

A CHESSE statement or issuer sponsored statement will routinely be sent to holders at the end of any calendar month during which the balance of their holding changes. New Option holders may request a statement at any other time, however, a charge may be made for additional statements.

2.17 Custodians, trustees and nominees

Nominees and custodians may not distribute this document, and may not permit any beneficial shareholder to participate in the Offers, in any country outside of Australia, New Zealand and Malaysia except, with the consent of the Company, to beneficial shareholders resident in other certain countries where the Company may determine it is lawful and practical to make the Offers.

If any nominee or custodian is acting on behalf of a foreign person, that holder, in dealing with its beneficiary, will need to assess whether indirect participation by the beneficiary in the Offers is compatible with applicable foreign laws.

2.18 ASX Quotation

Subject to meeting the ASX's minimum eligibility criteria for quotation, the Company intends to seek quotation of the New Options, and at such time, the New Options, once quoted, shall be transferable. If the New Options do not meet the ASX's eligibility criteria for the quotation of options at the time of issue, the New Options may remain unquoted and non-transferable until such time as the ASX's minimum eligibility criteria can be met.

If the New Options meet the ASX's eligibility criteria for the quotation the Company will make an application for quotation with the ASX within 7 days after the date of the Prospectus.

If the ASX does not grant permission for quotation of the New Options within three (3) months after the date of this Prospectus (or any later date permitted by law), none of the New Options will be issued and if any have been issued, the issue will be void in accordance with section 723 of the Corporations Act, unless ASIC grants an exemption permitting the issue.

ASX takes no responsibility for the contents of this Prospectus. The fact that ASX may grant official quotation is not to be taken in any way as an indication of the merits of the Company or the New Options.

2.19 Rights and liability attaching to Shares and New Options

The Shares issued on the exercise of the New Options will be on a fully paid basis and will rank equally in all respects with existing Shares. Full details of the rights and liabilities attaching to Shares are set out in the Company's Constitution, a copy of which may be downloaded from the Company's website at <https://www.ovanti.com/> or is available for inspection at the Company's registered office during normal business hours.

A summary of the important rights attaching to the Shares is contained in Section 4 of this Prospectus. The terms and conditions of the New Options are described in Section 5.

The principal and immediate effect of the Offers, assuming all New Options offered under this Prospectus are issued, will be to increase the number of options currently on issue by up to 520,339,654 options. The Company intends to apply for (but cannot guarantee) quotation of the New Options.

There will be no change to the number of Shares expected to be on issue as at 9:00am (AEST) on 20 May 2026. However, assuming that no further Shares are issued and none of the existing options are converted, the effect of the Offers on the Company's capital structure is set out below:

(a) Shares

1. If all New Options which may be issued under the Offers are exercised a further 520,339,654 Shares will be issued (assuming that no Shares are issued prior to the issue of New Options, including on exercise or conversion of Securities on issue). This number may vary due to rounding of Entitlements under the Offers. If no New Options are exercised prior to the New Option Expiry Date, there will be no change to the number of Shares currently on issue as a result of the Offers.

(b) Options

Existing quoted options on issue as at the date of this Prospectus ¹	31,134,234

3. These numbers are indicative only, are subject to rounding of Entitlements for the New Options and based on the number of Shares on issue as at the date of this Prospectus.

3.2 Potential effect on control of the Company

The issue of the New Options themselves will have no effect on the control (as defined by section 50AA of the Corporations Act) of the Company. No investor or existing Shareholder will have a Voting Power greater than 17.14% as a result of the completion of the Offers and the exercise of any New Options issued under the Offers.

There will be no change to any Shareholders' Voting Power as a result of the issue of New Options. Where New Options are exercised into Shares, the Voting Power of the Shareholders who exercise the New Options will increase. The likelihood of New Options being exercised is dependent on the price of the Shares from time to time until the New Options expire.

The maximum number of New Options proposed to be issued under the Offers is 520,339,654 Options. If all the New Options are exercised and the underlying Shares issued, the Shares issued on exercise will represent approximately 34.28% of the Shares on issue following completion of the Offers (assuming no Shares are issued or convertible Securities exercised or converted into Shares prior to the issue of the New Options).

3.3 Financial effect of the Offers

The New Options to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus will be issued for nil consideration. Accordingly, there will be no immediate effect on the Company's balance sheet. However, capital will be raised if the New Options are exercised, which will affect the Company's balance sheet.

If all New Options are issued and exercised (which is not certain), the Company will receive approximately $13,008,491.35 (before costs) in current assets. However, the Company is not able to specify with any certainty the extent of any change to the balance sheet given the uncertainty around the number of New Options to be ultimately issued, or if and when any of those New Options will be exercised.

These rights and liabilities can involve complex questions of law arising from an interaction of the Constitution with statutory and common law requirements. For a Shareholder to obtain a definitive assessment of the rights and liabilities which attach to Shares in any specific circumstances, the Shareholder should seek legal advice.

A full copy of the Constitution is available from the Company on request free of charge or available on the ASX website, www.asx.com.au under the Company's code "OVT".

Each Shareholder is entitled to receive notice of all general meetings of the Company and to receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be sent to Shareholders under the Constitution, the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules. Shareholders are entitled to be present in person, or by proxy, attorney or representative to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company. Shareholders may requisition meetings in accordance with section 249D of the Corporations Act.

(b) Voting Rights

Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any class or classes of Shares, from time to time, at general meetings of Shareholders or classes of Shareholders:

- (i) each Shareholder entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy, attorney or representative or, if a determination has been made by the Board, by direct vote in accordance with the Constitution;
- (ii) on a show of hands, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder entitled to vote has one vote; and
- (iii) on a poll, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder entitled to vote shall, in respect of each fully paid Share held by him or her, or in respect of which he or she is appointed a proxy, attorney or representative, have one vote for every fully paid Share, but in respect of partly paid Shares shall have a fraction of a vote equal to the proportion that the amount paid (not credited nor paid in advance of a call) is of the total amounts paid and payable (excluding amounts credited) for the Share.

(c) Dividend Rights

While there is no guarantee of any dividends or distributions by the Company, the Directors may from time to time decide to pay a dividend in compliance with the Corporations Act. The Directors may from time to time decide to pay a dividend to Shareholders entitled to the dividend which shall be payable on all Shares according to the proportion that the amount paid (not credited) is of the total amounts paid and payable (excluding amounts credited) in respect of such Shares. The Directors may rescind a decision to pay a dividend if they decide, before the payment date, that the Company's financial position no longer justified the payment.

The Directors may from time to time pay to Shareholders any interim dividends that they may determine.

(d) Winding Up

Subject to the rights of the holders of Securities in the Company issued on special terms, if the Company is wound up, the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution, divide among the Shareholders in kind the whole or any part of the property of the Company and may for that

No Shareholder is obliged to accept any Shares, securities or other assets in respect of which there is any liability.

(e) Transfer of Shares

Subject to the Company's Constitution, the Corporations Act or any other applicable laws of Australia and the Listing Rules, the Shares are freely transferable, subject to formal requirements, and so long as the registration of the transfer does not result in a contravention of or failure to observe the provisions of a law of Australia and the transfer is not in breach of the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

(f) Variation of Rights

If at any time the share capital of the Company is divided into different classes of Shares, the rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the Shares of that class) may be varied, whether or not the Company is being wound up, with the consent in writing of the holders of three quarters of the issued Shares of that class, or if authorised by a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of that class. Any variation of rights is subject to Part 2F.2 of Chapter 2 of the Corporations Act.

(g) Increases in capital

The Company must not issue Shares or grant options if the issue or grant would result in a breach of the Listing Rules.

(h) Amendments to the Constitution

The Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution in accordance with section 136(2) and 136(5) of the Corporations Act.

6 RISKS

The New Options offered under this Prospectus are considered highly speculative. In addition, there are risks inherent in investing in the share market in general. The business activities of the Company are subject to risks and there are many risks which may impact on the Company's future performance. Some of these risks can be mitigated by the use of safeguards and appropriate systems and controls, but many are outside of the control of the Company and cannot be mitigated.

Investors should be aware that an investment in the Company involves risks. Placement Participants and the Lead Manager should carefully consider the risk factors described below, together with information presented elsewhere in this Prospectus, and should consult their professional advisors before deciding whether to apply for Securities.

The key risks identified by the Company are set out below but these are not an exhaustive list of the risks associated with an investment in the Company shares. There may be other risks which the Directors and/or management of the Company are unaware which may impact upon the Company, its operations and/or the value and performance of the New Options and the Company generally.

6.1 Risks associated with the Company

(a) Future Capital Requirements and Financial Risk

Ovanti's ongoing operations and growth initiatives, including the development of its US Buy Now, Pay Later (BNPL) business, merchant partnerships and global platform expansion, may require substantial further financing in addition to any prior or future capital raisings. Debt financing, if available, may involve restrictive covenants which could limit the Company's operations and business strategy. While the Company believes that additional capital can be obtained, no assurances can be made that appropriate capital or funding, if and when needed, will be available on terms favourable to the Company, or at all. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce, delay or suspend operations, which could have a material adverse effect on its activities and its ability to continue as a going concern.

(b) Share Price Volatility

Shares listed on a stock exchange can experience extreme price and volume fluctuations that are often unrelated to the operating performance of the listed company. The market price of Ovanti's Shares may fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences. General factors that may affect the market price of Ovanti's Shares include macroeconomic conditions, investor sentiment, local and international share market conditions, changes in interest rates and the rate of inflation, the global security situation, and changes to government regulation, policy or legislation.

(c) BNPL and Fintech Regulatory Risk

Ovanti operates in the rapidly evolving fintech and Buy Now, Pay Later sector, which is subject to increasing regulatory scrutiny in Australia, Malaysia, the United States and globally. Changes to consumer credit laws, payment services regulations, anti-money laundering requirements or data privacy legislation in any jurisdiction in which Ovanti operates could impose significant compliance obligations or restrict the Company's ability to offer its products and services. There is no guarantee that the Company's current or planned products will comply with future regulatory requirements, and non-compliance could result in financial penalties, licence revocation or reputational damage.

(d) Technology and Platform Risk

Ovanti's business is dependent on the reliability, security and continued development of its technology platforms, including its SMS and digital messaging solutions, mobile backend services and BNPL payment infrastructure. Any significant disruption, failure, security breach or cyberattack affecting these platforms could impair service delivery, damage customer relationships and expose the Company to financial liability. The Company faces ongoing risks from increasingly sophisticated cyber threats. There is no guarantee that the Company's security measures will be sufficient to prevent all data breaches or system failures.

(e) Customer and Revenue Concentration Risk

A significant portion of Ovanti's revenue is derived from a concentrated base of institutional customers, including banks, insurers, telecommunications companies and corporate clients, primarily in Malaysia. The loss of one or more key customers, or a material reduction in transaction volumes from such customers, could have a disproportionate adverse effect on the Company's revenue and financial performance. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to maintain existing customer relationships or attract new customers on acceptable terms.

(f) Malaysian Market and Foreign Currency Risk

Ovanti conducts a substantial portion of its operations in Malaysia and derives revenue in Malaysian Ringgit and other currencies. The Company is therefore exposed to foreign currency risk, including fluctuations in the exchange rate between the Malaysian Ringgit and the Australian dollar. Adverse movements in exchange rates could materially reduce the value of the Company's revenues and assets when translated into Australian dollars. Additionally, the Company's operations are subject to the political, regulatory and economic environment in Malaysia, including changes in government policy, taxation laws and local business conditions, any of which could adversely affect the Company's operations and financial performance.

(g) US Market Expansion Risk

Ovanti is investing in the expansion of its BNPL business into the United States market, which involves significant execution risk, capital requirements and competitive challenges. The US consumer finance market is subject to a complex and evolving regulatory landscape at both the federal and state level. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to establish sufficient merchant and partnership agreements, attract consumers, obtain necessary licences or achieve commercially viable scale in the United States. Failure to execute on this strategy could result in the loss of invested capital and adversely affect the Company's overall financial position.

(h) Competition

Ovanti competes with a range of established and well-resourced competitors in the fintech, digital payments and BNPL sectors, including global BNPL providers, banks and technology companies operating in Australia, Malaysia and the United States. Many of these competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and marketing resources than Ovanti. Increased competition could result in pricing pressure, loss of market share and reduced profitability. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete effectively with its existing or future competitors.

(i) Reliance on Key Personnel

Ovanti's success is dependent on retaining and attracting skilled personnel with expertise in fintech, software development, financial services and business development across multiple jurisdictions. The loss of key management or technical staff, or the inability to attract suitably qualified personnel, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's operations and growth prospects.

(j) Intellectual Property Risk

The Company's business depends on its proprietary technology, software platforms and related intellectual property. There is a risk that the Company's intellectual property protections may be inadequate, or that third parties may develop competing or infringing technologies. Any failure to adequately protect the Company's intellectual property, or any successful claim by a third party that the Company has infringed their intellectual property, could adversely affect the Company's competitive position and financial performance.

(k) Litigation Risk

The Company may be subject to litigation or regulatory proceedings in connection with its operations, including disputes with customers, counterparties, employees or regulators. Any such proceedings, if determined adversely to the Company, may have a material adverse effect on the Company's operations, reputation, financial performance and financial position.

(l) Force Majeure

The Company's operations and activities may be adversely affected by risks outside its control, including labour unrest, civil disorder, war, subversive activities or sabotage, fires, floods, cyber incidents, epidemics or quarantine restrictions.

(m) Climate Change Risk

The Company's operations and activities may be subject to changes in local or international compliance regulations related to climate change mitigation, environmental obligations and sustainability reporting requirements. While Ovanti's operations are technology-based and have a relatively modest direct environmental footprint, increasing regulatory requirements around ESG disclosure and sustainability could impose additional compliance costs on the Company.

6.2 Risks associated with the Offers

(a) Value of New Options

The New Options that are issued as part of the Offers require the exercise price of $0.025 per New Option to be paid at the time of exercise. If the prevailing trading price of Shares is lower than the Exercise Price, then it is likely that the New Options will not be exercised. In this case, for investors, the unexercised New Options will not have value and will lapse on the Expiry Date of the New Options.

If the New Options are not exercised, or only some of the New Options are exercised, then the Company may not receive the proceeds that would otherwise be generated if New Option holders pay the Exercise Price. This possibility may reduce the amount of capital that the Company would receive if all of the New Options are exercised on or before the Expiry Date of the New Options.

(b) Nature of the New Options

The Company will seek quotation of the New Options therefore, the New Options will be transferrable following quotation, subject to meeting the ASX's minimum eligibility criteria for quotation (and actually being quoted, which cannot be guaranteed). Even if ASX grants official quotation of the New Options, the market for the New Options may be illiquid. The market for Shares may be illiquid.

There is no certainty that New Options will trade above the Exercise Price and accordingly there is no certainty that holders of New Options will realise any value from the New Options. In the event that the New Options are exercised, this will dilute the holdings of existing Shareholders.

6.3 General risks

(a) Potential for dilution

A shareholder's percentage holding in the Company will be diluted by not participating in the Offers, assuming New Options are exercised. It is not possible to predict what the value of the Company or its Shares will be following the completion of the Offers and the Directors do not make any representation as to such matters. The historical trading price of the Shares on ASX prior to the date of this Prospectus is not a reliable indicator as to the potential trading price of Shares after completion of the Offers.

(b) General Economic and Investment Risks

As with all stock market investments, there are risks associated with an investment in the Company. The trading price of the Company's Shares may fluctuate with movements in equity capital markets in Australia and internationally, and may also be influenced by a number of factors, some of which are specific to Ovanti and its operations and some of which may affect listed companies generally. Generally applicable factors that may affect the market price of Shares include: i) general movements in Australian and international securities markets; ii) investor sentiment; iii) Australian and international economic conditions and outlook; iv) changes in interest rates and the rate of inflation; v) changes in government regulation and policies (including in relation to taxation); vi) announcement of new technologies; vii) and geopolitical instability. General economic conditions may also negatively affect the Company's performance and the performance of the Company's Shares. Any protracted slowdown in economic conditions or factors such as movements in inflation or interest rates, the cost and general availability of credit, and industrial disruption may have a negative impact on the Company.

(c) Taxation

The disposal or exercise of New Options will have tax consequences, which will differ depending on the individual financial affairs of each investor. All investors are urged to obtain independent financial advice about the consequences of disposing of or exercising New Options from a taxation viewpoint and generally. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Company, its officers and each of their respective advisors accept no liability and responsibility with respect to the taxation consequences of disposing of or exercising the New Options under this Prospectus.

(d) Government and legal Risk

Therefore, investors in the target market are in a financial position that is sufficient for them to invest their funds over an approximately 4-year horizon in the period until the Expiry Date should they wish to exercise their New Options. Any decision to exercise the New Options is likely to be based on the trading price of Shares.
Investor metrics	While the Company does not have an established eligibility framework for investors based on metrics such as age, expected return or volatility, it is expected that the target market of investors will be able to withstand potential fluctuations in the value of their investment. The New Options (and any resulting shares in the Company) offer no guaranteed income or capital protection. To realise the underlying value of the New Options, the New Options must be exercised on or before their expiry on the Expiry Date. Investors in the target market will need to be in a financial position to have sufficient available funds so as to pay the exercise price to exercise the New Options prior to the Expiry Date.
Excluded class of consumers	The New Options are not suitable for investors: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • who are not Placement Participants or the Lead Manager; • who are not seeking to have the potential to increase their investment in the Company; • who do not understand and appreciate the risks of investing in options as an asset class generally and the more specific risks of investing in the Company; • who do not ordinarily invest in speculative investments in the financial technology sector; and • who require an income stream from their investment.
Risk	The Company considers that an investment in the New Options is high risk and highly speculative, such that an investment in the Company is not appropriate for an investor who would not be able to bear a loss of some of all of the investment. Investors should have a sufficient level of financial literacy and resources (either alone or in conjunction with an appropriate adviser) to understand and appreciate the risks of investing in New Options as an

The Company has assessed the New Options and formed the view that the New Options are likely to be consistent with the objectives, financial situation and needs of investors in the target market as described above in this section 1.

2 Distribution conditions

The Placement Offer under the Prospectus is being made to Placement Participants, who are sophisticated investors and professional investors who committed to the Company's placement to raise $5,270,000 before costs (as announced to the ASX on 15 April 2026), and were issued a total of 520,339,653 Shares at an issue price of $0.010128 per Share (as announced to the ASX on 4 May 2026).

The Broker Offer under the Prospectus is being made to the lead manager and broker to the Placement, Clee Capital Pty Ltd (ACN 637 619 937) (Lead Manager), in consideration for the services of lead manager in connection with the Placement. The Broker Offer is made on the same terms as the Placement Offer. Only the Lead Manager is eligible to participate in and apply for the Broker Offer.

In the Prospectus, the Company has outlined key risks of investment in the New Options and emphasised that investment in the New Options should be regarded as speculative. This would make it not suitable for investors for whom such an investment is inappropriate.

A copy of the Prospectus and this TMD is available on the Company's website, <https://www.ovanti.com/> and on the ASX website, <https://www.asx.com.au/> under the Company's code "OVT".

The Company considers that these distribution conditions will ensure that persons who invest in the New Options fall within the target market in circumstances where personal advice is not being provided to those persons by the Company.

3 Review Triggers

The New Options are being offered for a limited period set out in the Prospectus, after the conclusion of which the New Options will no longer be available for investment by way of issue. It follows that the TMD will only apply in the period between the commencement of the offer of the New Options and the issue of New Options after the close of the Offer (Offer Period) after which the TMD will be withdrawn.

To allow the Company to determine whether circumstances exist that indicate this TMD is no longer appropriate to the Offer and should be reviewed, the following events and circumstances will be review triggers:

- (a) a material change to the New Options' key attributes that make it no longer consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of investors in the target market;
- (b) the Company lodges with ASIC a supplementary or replacement prospectus in relation to the Prospectus;

For personal use only

- (c) the occurrence of a significant dealing in New Options that is not consistent with this TMD. The Company does not consider that an on-sale of the New Options on market is a significant dealing;
- (d) a substantial divergence in how the New Options are being distributed and purchased from this TMD;
- (e) ASIC raises concerns with the Company regarding the adequacy of the design or distribution of the New Options or this TMD;
- (f) there is a significant increase in the number of complaints received in respect of the New Options; and
- (g) material changes to the regulatory environment that applies to an investment in the New Options.

The Company may also amend this TMD at any time.

4 Review Period

If a review trigger occurs during the Offer Period, the Company will undertake a review of the TMD in light of the review trigger (as applicable) as soon as reasonably practicable and, in any case, within 10 business days of the review trigger occurring.

The Company will otherwise conduct a review of the TMD prior to the issue of New Options under the Offers.

5 Reporting Requirements

As the Company is not appointing external distributors of New Options in respect of retail clients, the Company will consider any of the following matters:

- (a) complaints received by the Company in relation to the New Options;
- (b) a significant dealing of the New Options which is inconsistent with this TMD;
- (c) any dealings outside of the target market (to the extent the Company is aware of such dealings); and
- (d) the conduct of the Company under the TMD.

Where relevant, the Company will consider any of the above matters and determine the appropriate steps that will be taken, including, where appropriate, reporting matters to ASIC.
