Over the past few years, EPX has broadened its service offering through a combination of organic growth and targeted acquisitions, creating an integrated platform focused on building optimisation and performance. This expanded capability allows EPX to deliver greater value to property owners seeking to improve asset efficiency, reduce operating costs and enhance profitability. Supported by favourable market conditions, including sustained high energy prices and increasing demand for energy management solutions, EPX is well positioned to capitalise on a growing pipeline of opportunities.

Recent announced success, such as the NSW TAFE tender win for 150+ new sites, a major Australian REIT adding 200+ sites, expansion and upsizing of customers such as the UK's Great Western Railway (GWR) and FirstGroup PLC, has assisted EPX to increase its global site footprint to over 1,000+ sites. This provides the platform for further growth.

To seek to take advantage of this, EPX is entering into a Secured Revolving Note facility for up to A$3.0 million in capital. This capital will allow EPX to move on revenue growth opportunities quicker within set budget parameters, as well as provide flexibility to consider further M&A opportunities and general working capital.
