Variation to CEO's Employment Agreement

BetMakers Technology Group Limited (ASX: BET) (BetMakers or the Company) advises that, for the purposes of ASX Listing Rule 3.16.4, the Board has approved a variation to the employment agreement of its Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Mr Jake Henson.

Under the variation, Mr Henson's notice period will increase to 12 months. The notice period applies on a reciprocal basis, so that either the Company or Mr Henson must give 12 months' notice to terminate the employment agreement without cause.

No consideration will be paid by either party in connection with the variation.

The change follows a review of leadership notice periods relative to market practice and is intended to support orderly transition planning and preserve institutional knowledge in the event of a senior executive departure.
