MONADELPHOUS CONTRACTS UPDATE

Engineering company Monadelphous Group Limited (ASX: MND) ("Monadelphous" or "the Company") today announced the award of new construction and maintenance contracts in the resources and energy sectors valued at more than $200 million.

Monadelphous has secured two contracts with Fortescue. The first is for the installation of wind turbine generators (WTGs) associated with the Nullagine Wind Project in Western Australia, further extending the scope of services provided in support of Fortescue's continued decarbonisation objectives. The Company has also been awarded a three-year contract to continue delivering maintenance services across Fortescue's Pilbara operations in Western Australia.

In Queensland, the Company has secured a three-year contract (with two one-year extension options) to provide multidisciplinary services at Santos' upstream field development and production operations. Monadelphous has also been awarded a contract with Santos for the construction of temporary camp facilities associated with the APF Tie-In Project in the Southern Highlands region of Papua New Guinea, with work expected to be completed by the end of 2026.

Finally, the Company has secured a three-year contract to continue providing operation and maintenance services at Synergy's Muja Power Station in Collie, Western Australia.
